ON THE FIRING LINE

Remember that the Police Open at 9 a. m. and Close at 5 p. m.
On September 21

In advocating the endorsement of the reciprocity agreement every speaker in Canada who favors it makes frequent reference to the advantage that its ratification will mean to the farmers of the Northwest. It was these farmers who first insistently forced their demand for a reciprocal trade agreement with the United States upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier. They did it because they demanded an open market for their enormous and increasing crops of wheat. They know their own business better than anyone else. Not even Mr. Borden, with all his chilly and obstinacy in opposing the pact, could convince them that they were mistaken in what they asked. They know their business best and they cannot be turned away from their demand for an open market.

Do you ask how their welfare affects us on the Pacific Coast? Go back to the year of 1907 when the outlook for the crops on the prairies was poor. The remembrance of that year will tell you why every Son of Canada wants to see the farmers of the Middle West prosper. Their prosperity radiates like the pulsing wave from the centre of this great continent to its uttermost parts just as a stone thrown into the middle of a great body of water sets a movement pulsing that travels to its outmost borders. And when things are calm, level or depressed with them the whole face of the great nation is still. The smile is perfect.

Do you remember, Mr. Merchant, the year 1907? That was the year your banker sent for you and said your credit had to be cut in half. You didn't like it, because business wasn't good. The retailer wouldn't buy and could not pay. The farmer wasn't rich that year, you remember.

Do you remember, Mr. Landowner, the year 1907? You held your land without a sale all summer, and you fairly strained your eyes to see what sort of a crop the farmers were going to get in. It was a good one. Do you remember how glad you were?

Do you remember, Mr. Financier, the year 1907? When the banks were calling margins on your securities? When, after you had been ground down to the last point, you were told that the banks wouldn't lend any money at all on your securities. And what had happened? The farmers had failed to come forward with the expected, the accustomed amount of new wealth, and inroads were made on the old, and there wasn't enough to go round. That big crop in 1907 saved your bacon.

The value of the farmer's crop to the nation is what he gets for it. How dare any sensible business man, valuing only, if you like, his own selfish interests, prevent the farmer from taking a great chance to increase the aggregate return?

CLEAR CUT ISSUE.
(From the Farmers' Sun.)
If ever there was an election in Canada in which the Privileged Few stood on one side and the Unprivileged Many on the other, surely this is that one. The men who form the backbone of the anti-reciprocity forces are the packers, the meaters, the butchers, the millers, the owners who have been buying Canadian barley at an average of 19c below Buffalo prices, and financiers and promoters who have become millionaires by the floating of mergers which the present system renders possible. On the other side is the great mass of un-

RIOTERS SHOT DOWN BY TROOPS

SITUATION IN CHINA REPORTED GRAVE

Number of Soldiers Killed During Fighting—Floods Add to Troubles

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11.—Blood has been spilled in Szechuan, China, and the situation has grown rapidly in seriousness.

Over twenty rioters and a number of soldiers have been killed during the last few days, resulting from attacks of dissatisfied natives on the Yamen, or residents of Chengtu, Szechuan. This information reached the state department today.

Reports to the department indicate that the American women and children have already left Cheng Tu under escort and it is thought that others also have departed. With 1,000 soldiers, Tuan Pang, director of the imperial railway, left Hankow for the disturbed province on Saturday. Other forces are being collected on the Szechuan border.

The gravity of the conditions and the fearful possibilities of a mammoth uprising has brought the central government of China to a quick decision to suppress the trouble with a strong hand. The leaders of the agitation were arrested by the viceroy of the province. This inflamed their followers and resulted in a continuous attack on the Yamen by the mob. The soldiers on guard fired into the rioters, killing some twenty of them. The mob returned and in a stubborn assault on the viceroy's residence, slew a number of the troops.

Later news in regard to the situation is unobtainable, as the telegraph wires between Cheng Tu and Chang Kung have been cut. The capital of the rebellious province is cut off from the rest of the world and the developments of the encounter between the mob and soldiers are unknown.

The political and economic ills of China are not all, for her troubles continue through the ravages of nature. Twenty-seven counties in northern Anhwei and Kiang Su provinces have been devastated by the floods of the uncontrollable Yangtze, according to official reports to the American legation at Peking. Conditions in the Yangtze valley are reported as even.

AERIAL POSTMAN HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Aeroplane Crashes to Earth and Aviator Sustains Serious Injuries

London, Sept. 11.—Hubert, one of the aviators of the aerial postal service inaugurated by the British postoffice last Saturday, met with a bad accident this morning, and only the mail bags which the flying postman carried from Hendon to Windsor Castle saved him from an almost certain death.

Hubert had just got away from Hendon with 125 pounds of mail when the machinery of his aeroplane went wrong and the machine crashed to the earth, burying the aviator under a mass of debris.

Both of Hubert's legs were broken and he suffered other injuries, but the mail bags on top of him acted as a buffer and saved him from being crushed to death by the weight of the engine.

DYNAMITE KILLS FOUR.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—A premature discharge of dynamite as men in the Elmhurst-Chicago quarry at Elmhurst, had just finished charging a hole, killed four quarrymen and seriously injured three others and the foreman. Investigations so far have failed to disclose the cause of the explosion.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 11.—Henry Hamalka was killed and nearly forty were injured last night when an electric car on the Greenfield avenue line jumped the track at a switch and turned completely over. Of the injured several were badly hurt, but the hospital authorities say there will probably be no further deaths.

DROWNED IN DETROIT RIVER.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 11.—In a vain effort to breast the strong current of the Detroit river yesterday, Clarence V. Huettner, 26 years old, was drowned attempting to save his fiancée, Miss Anna Baetz. His body was recovered. Miss Baetz was rescued.

ILLUSTRATING J. HERRICK MCGREGOR'S HUMOR

TA M'GREGOR (to comely Miss B. C., who has been explaining that her peaches for household purposes cost $2,000 more than they were worth on the open market owing to an unnecessary duty)—But, my dear young lady, ye maunna overlook the fact that if ye hae ony transactions o' a business character wi' yon Yankee chiel, without the intervention o' a third party in the shape o' a customs official, that Yankee will get the foolish notion in his heid that ye're setting yer cap for him, an' surely that woulдна becomin' an' the guid Lord only kens what might come o't. Noo, dinna argy bargy wi' me about lands I've "acquired" through my native shrewdness and the guid offices o' my freen the Premier, and possibly sell to advantage on the ither side. That's gether here nor there.

J. Herrick McGregor, Humorist, Etc.

J. Herrick McGregor, as all Victorians know or ought to know, is a poet and a humorist. His name proves this proposition. It is not necessary to inquire what the "J." in the name stands for, but it will scarcely be denied that Herrick stands for poetry and that McGregor stands for humor. McGregor sounds Scotch, and no one will deny, notwithstanding the sneer of the late Sydney Smith (himself a Scot) that the Scotch are the most humorous people in the world.

Being a poet and a humorist, J. Herrick McGregor has of course read the works of Mark Twain. Mr. McGregor has written a letter to the Colonist which proves this as a fact beyond question. The "arguments" in this communication indicate unmistakably that the writer considers the electors of Victoria in the class of Nigger Jim, the chum of Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn, whom Twain's hero used to tempt into arguments and down ignominiously. Consider the manner in which Mr. J. Herrick McGregor, humorist, takes a "rise" out of the electors of Victoria in the letter addressed to the Colonist.

Mr. McGregor says he was at one time a Liberal, but reciprocity has forced him to change his coat. What is the reason assigned by this former Liberal for turning his garment? It is this, shortly stated: If reciprocity be adopted the American people might be deluded into the belief that Canadians leaned sympathetically towards annexation—and we are told what might happen should such a delusion enter the minds of our southern neighbors. That is to say, if we keep the taxes on peaches and potatoes and other foods we buy, and must continue to buy, from the United States, in some mysterious way, only apparent to the subtle mind of a humorist, they will be purged of any taint of a politically poisonous nature, and the Canadian consumer will be safe from an insidious disease and the American purveyor will be completely convinced that there is no germ of annexation lurking in the Canadian body politic. What can the Victoria consumer, who paid two thousand dollars or more in taxes within the past few weeks upon imported peaches alone, and is paying in proportion upon everything else he consumes, think of Mr. J. Herrick McGregor as a humorist?

And this reminds us that Mr. McGregor is a devout believer in the virtues of taxation. It is not so long since he wrote letters to the newspapers arguing that the most effective way of settling the public lands of the province was by passing them through the hands of speculators. The speculators of course levy taxation in the form of speculative values. This was probably another of the humorous turns of Mr. McGregor. Yet as a provincial land surveyor he is understood to have applied his humor in an intensely practical form.

Let us suppose what may or may not be a supposititious case. If Mr. McGregor in his relations with the McBride government had been fortunate enough to acquire any areas of public lands, would he, as a patriot, fearing the absorption of the virus of Americanism, refuse to dispose of the property to citizens of the United States, who might also be of a speculative disposition? Or is a humorist who has become a Tory, "for business reasons," immune from infection? Is the danger of becoming disloyal confined only to the inferior class who might under reciprocity be given opportunities to purchase food free of taxation and at uninflated prices?

Is Mr. McGregor allied with any companies or concerns or individuals which or who have sold immense parcels of what was formerly the public domain of British Columbia to citizens of the United States? J. H. McG., when you deal with public questions you should discard cant, humbug and hypocrisy.

THOUSANDS TURN OUT TO GREET SIR WILFRID

Prime Minister Declares Progressive Canadians Are Not in Accord With "Let Well Enough Alone" Cry of Conservatives.

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 11.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier is coming among his own again. Saturday afternoon French Canadians from Long Point to Sandwich jammed themselves in a sweltering crowd on Ouellette square to greet the premier. Their numbers were increased by the English-speaking sections of the country. The crowd swelled to over 10,000. All down the line the people of the little French villages had emptied themselves, on to the station platforms to cheer the premier in the private car behind. Only once did Sir Wilfrid show himself, and that was to doff his cap to the fruit packers at Tecumseh, who had piled themselves in the front of their big building, temporarily suspending operations. In a moment the word that the premier was visible spread through the train and the vestibule of the car in and around was packed with eager travelers. Sir Wilfrid stayed in his car until after lunch.

The meeting was scheduled for 1:30 and began pretty well on time. About 2,000 people came across from Detroit. Dr. P. A. Dewar, Liberal candidate in North Essex, spoke first deprecating the annexation cry. More than half of the young men in the country dealt with the United States, and he wondered whether they were less loyal on that account. If the United States were so keen to annex Canada and could do so by increasing her trade with us, it was within her power to do so at once by throwing down the tariff bars. "I'm sure the ladies will approve of free trade," said Dr. Dewar. "They carry on free trade every day in spite of the customs."

A. H. Clarke, Liberal candidate in South Essex, declared that he was one of the British born, but he did not fear reciprocity. "Would it not be more loyal to take off the taxes or fines on trade and use the money saved in building up the country?" he asked. "I feel that it is proper that the people should respond more generously on this occasion than ever before," said the premier, in thanking his audience for the splendid gathering. "It is not a tribute to me because I am the embodiment of what has been in the mind of Canadians for years. We feel that there should be better and freer trade with the people who share this country with us."

Declaring that reciprocity had been a national desire since confederation,

Sir Wilfrid told the story of previous attempts to the time of the pilgrimage from Washington to Ottawa. The premier spoke a few words of warm praise to the memory of Sir John A. Macdonald, and added: "It is a measure of personal gratification to me in my old age to bring to you a concrete proposal of reciprocity as long sought by my predecessors in vain." Once more Sir Wilfrid declared that tariff stability was desired in Canada. He thanked the Conservatives for the "let well enough alone" cry as a great compliment to the government. The men who were here before the French came, the Indians, were satisfied to "let well enough alone," he said. They were satisfied with that yet. That policy was good enough for the Indians. It was not for the whites. "If there is a race on earth which is not satisfied to let well enough alone, it is the Anglo-Saxon race, whether you find it in Europe, the United States or Canada. The Conservatives belong to the "let well enough alone" class. They are a freak of nature, not part of the Anglo-Saxon race."

Of the annexation cry Sir Wilfrid said, "Let me speak of this to Conservatives or Liberals who have never been bamboozled by it. I have never denied that I was an admirer of the American republic. Perhaps this was due to the fact that when eleven years old I read an American book in French, a translation of Uncle Tom's Cabin. It appeared serially in a Montreal magazine. It has been the goal of my life that between these two races there should be peace and emulation, the friendly rivalry of commerce and science. By this we should give a fine example to the world—as noble a future to one nation as to the other."

HUNTER WOUNDED

Vancouver, Sept. 11.—A. McNeil, who resides at 1912 Third avenue west, lies at the General hospital, in a critical condition as a result of a shooting accident which took place yesterday afternoon.

It appears that McNeil, in company with a friend named Samuel Byers, had been on a hunting trip and were returning by boat. When near the Kitsilano bridge, the gun owned by Byers went off, the contents entering the body of McNeil. Medical assistance was called, and he was later taken to the hospital. Just why the gun was kept loaded when nearing the city has not yet been explained.

Colony Anxious to Share in Benefits of Freer Trade
With States

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—Word has reached Ottawa that if Canada ratifies the reciprocity agreement a movement will be launched in Newfoundland for a union with the Dominion. Newfoundland has several times sought better trading terms with the United States without success.

The proposed reciprocity agreement, which would give free entry to fish into the United States, has aroused great interest in Newfoundland and a desire to share with Canada in any advantages of the great United States market.

New York, Sept. 11.—Fourteen men were drowned in the sinking of the schooner "Whisper" off the Nicaraguan coast yesterday, according to cables received here from Port Limon.

The schooner, commanded by Captain Winston Hall of Philadelphia, carried a cargo of mahogany, which caught fire and burned to the water's edge. An explosion of gasoline finally sent the ship to the bottom with all on board.

A FEW WORDS WITH MR. BOWSER.

The Attorney-General of the province will address a meeting of electors in the Victoria theatre this evening. No doubt the hon. gentleman's oration will be couched in characteristic style. Every one knows the particular type of political oratory he favors—one hundred per cent. bombast and no facts. Here are some for his consideration:

On the 30th of January, 1909, Duncan Ross addressed a letter containing the following allegations to Mr. Bowser, which the latter gentleman overlooked. Will he be good enough to pay some attention to them now. In his communication Mr. Ross said:

1. That W. J. Bowser was solicitor for Gotoh (a Japanese contractor).
2. That W. J. Bowser drafted a contract between Gotoh and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company under which Japanese laborers were to be supplied to the company.

3. That W. J. Bowser personally appeared in the County Court, Vancouver, before His Honor Judge Henderson as counsel for Gotoh and his company.

4. That W. J. Bowser used his knowledge, secured in a professional way, to furnish the Vancouver Province with material for an election canvass which appeared in that paper on the evening before the last provincial general election.

5. That the same knowledge was used by W. J. Bowser to make untruthful and sensational charges against the Liberal party in a speech delivered in the Victoria theatre the night before the last provincial general election.

6. That at the first time W. J. Bowser introduced the Natal Act in the legislature he knew (by reason of his having been solicitor for Gotoh) that there was then in full force and effect a contract between Gotoh and Gotoh's company and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to bring Japanese laborers to this country.

7. That in this knowledge, secured in a professional way, is found sufficient motive for W. J. Bowser's having introduced in the legislature an act which did not, and could not, restrict Oriental immigration, but which did attempt to legalize the coming to this country of all those who could not read or write in English or a language of Europe.

8. That in the publication of the Province, Canada and in the speech delivered in the Victoria theatre W. J. Bowser made an improper and unprofessional use of the business of his client.

9. That W. J. Bowser's abortive Natal Act was introduced to deceive the members of the legislature and the electors of the province and not to endanger a contract that was in the interests of his powerful political ally, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

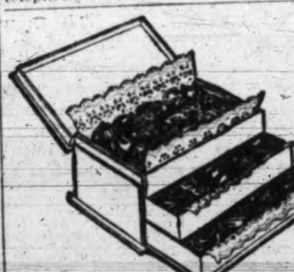

Mr. Bowser must answer those charges or stand convicted of grossly dishonest political methods and of having shown a contemptuous disregard for the ethics of the profession to which he belongs.

BRITISH PRESSMEN PLEASED WITH WELCOME

Party of Ten Reaches Victoria on Tour of Dominion—Left To-day for Nanaimo

The party of British journalists who are touring Canada arrived on the Princess Adelaide yesterday afternoon, and at once registered at the Empress hotel. The assistant superintendent of immigration, J. Obed Smith, London, England, has been in charge of the party right across the continent, and with them was the genial general colonization agent, C. W. Speers, who joined them at Winnipeg. W. E. Scott, deputy minister of agriculture of British Columbia, is travelling with them through the province. Two of the twelve who set out were missing from the group, J. E. Cress, of the Scotsman, who is travelling alone, and H. C. Patten, of the Norfolk News, recalled hastily to England.

They only stayed over the night, being entertained to an automobile run in the afternoon round the city, and in the evening there was a dinner at the hotel by the B. C. Board of Trade, on behalf of the Dominion government. The reception committee of the board acted as sponsors of the party.

H. G. Wilson, president of the Board of Trade, occupied the chair at the dinner and among those invited to meet the visitors were Hon. Dr. Young, Hon. Price Ellison, Dr. G. L. Milne, the editors of the local papers and several leading merchants. In deference to the day the only toast honored was the loyal one and there were no speeches.

This morning the party left for Nanaimo, where they will cross to Vancouver, go on to Vernon for a day and Edmonton will be the next stop-over. The travellers then take the Grand Trunk Pacific to Winnipeg, and from there will sail on the Megantic for Liverpool.

All are greatly impressed with their visit, and have lived in a round of engagements since setting foot in Montreal, visiting industries, fairs, and seeing every phase of life.

Edgar Rowan, of the London Daily Chronicle, told a Times representative he would treat matters from a descriptive standpoint, and believed he would be able to do some useful work through the medium of his paper to clear misconceptions about the Dominion.

Mr. J. Hutton, of the Western Mail, declared on landing that Victoria appeared to him to have a strong British flavor, and he felt sure the inhabitants must be proud of their unmatched natural advantages. The party's tour had been remarkable and had been designed to make most use of the time.

He believed they had seen a very fair share of the Dominion en route. He was much impressed with the wonderful lumber industry of the province, and the inspection of the Hastings mill at Vancouver on the previous day had been greatly enjoyed.

Councillor C. W. Starnes, of the Sheffield Independent, who was in the country four years ago, was much impressed with the great progress made since that time in the west. Material prosperity showed itself on every hand, he said.

W. M. Alexander, of the Aberdeen Free Press, said he had naturally looked at matters during his trip largely from an agricultural standpoint, and for the opportunities available to the immigrant from the Scottish rural districts. The exodus had been a serious one for Scotland, and was continuing in the country districts, as was shown by the recent census returns.

The landed question, however, was a complex problem, and upon its solution depended the large extent the future of rural Scotland.

Wilfrid Rutherford, of the Financial News, London, who has seen a great deal of the world, declared that Victoria and Vancouver, in that order, struck him as the two most desirable places to locate in if he wanted to leave England. Special Canadian investments occupied an enviable position in the esteem of the British investor.

Personnel of the Party.
The personnel of the group contains many interesting men who have achieved considerable measure of fame in their profession.

Robert H. H. Baird, J. P. of Belfast, is the editor of the Belfast Daily Telegraph, and has been associated since 1886, when he was appointed to the management of the business, with a number of other papers, including the Irish Post and Irish Saturday Night. He has twice been president of the Elster district of the Institute of Journalists, of which he was one of the founders, and he also has extensive practice, he was the first to make use of electricity for power purposes in Ireland in connection with newspaper printing.

The Financial News representative, Wilfrid Rutherford, was special correspondent at St. Petersburg during the Russo-Japanese war, and is both author and artist. He has also travelled extensively.

When the Sheffield Independent was reorganized in 1909 the directors placed Councillor C. W. Starnes in the chair, as managing editor, Mr. Starnes having been for years associated with the Northern Echo. Owing to the fact that Mr. Starnes was in the country four years ago as a guest of the Canadian government he has been taking the lead during the visit of this party.

The Westminster Gazette has a north-countryman representing it in the person of James F. Chapter, who graduated on the Newcastle Evening News and the Morning Mail, the first half-penny morning paper in Newcastle. He joined the staff of this critical London evening daily in 1900.

The manager of the Irish Post, Thomas Moles, has been associated with papers in Armagh and Belfast, and is an authority on Irish politics. The record of Edgar Rowan, of the London Daily Chronicle, has been varied. He wrote the widely circulated biography of Rev. Wilson Cartile, founder of the Church Army, and afterwards was connected with magazine work on the Harroworth publications. Since then he has been associated with the Daily Chronicle, and Lloyd's Weekly News.

Wilfrid J. Hinton, B.A., has lectured frequently on economics and now holds an important position on the Western Mail, Cardiff.

One who has studied law, and been admitted as a solicitor, but has not practised is W. A. Alexander, of the Aberdeen Free Press. He graduated M.A. at Aberdeen University, and in 1904 joined his present paper.

John Roberts, as the name implies, is a Welshman whose press experience has been confined to papers in the principality. He now represents the North Wales Times, and is an authority on agricultural subjects.

The twelfth member of the party is C. D. Lucas, of The Bits, who is a grand nephew of John Bright. He has travelled extensively in different parts of the world.

The Board of Trade assumed entire responsibility for the local arrangements without calling in the assistance of the city newspapermen or the Legislative Press Gallery, most of the officers of which live here.

Polls Close at 5 P.M.

In all Dominion elections the doors of polling booths open at 9 o'clock a.m. and close at 5 p.m. All votes must be cast between these hours. In provincial and municipal elections the polling stations remain open until 7 o'clock in the evening, a fact which sometimes creates confusion in the mind of the elector. Do not forget that on September 21 the doors of the polling booths will be closed sharply on the hour of 5.

Facts Truthfully Told

With the change in the weather the "outer garment question" is perhaps the one uppermost in your mind, so we devote this space to-day for the purpose of laying further stress on our appeal to Victoria ladies to inspect our showing of Coats, Suits, Waterproofs, (and every other line as well) and see if the values R. & A. offer you are not exactly as frequently put in print in this space, i.e., values obtainable only HERE.

We GUARANTEE our CASH prices to be the lowest ever offered in Victoria, we further GUARANTEE that for quality and price we hold the lead; and no wonder, for we buy for cash ourselves and give you the greater profit.

Our lines of Suits start at a modest $15.75; the Coats start at but $6.50; Separate Skirts at $3.75 (Mellon cloth); Mackintoshes with silk surface effect at $8.25; Children's Waterproof Capes from $1.85; and Umbrellas from "a little dollar."

The MEN'S section, too, is well worthy of inspection and comparison.

ALLEGED BRIBERY.

Gary, Ind., Sept. 11.—Mayor Thomas E. Knott, five of the city council, City Engineer W. A. Williston and a son of an alderman were arrested Saturday on charges of accepting and soliciting bribes in a heating franchise deal. The arrests were made on complaint of T. B. Dean, of Richmond, Ky., to whom the franchise was granted. Dean said he had given evidence of the attempted bribery to attorneys in Chicago before money was transferred.

At the same time steps were taken in Chicago to protect funds said to be deposited in a safety deposit vault there. This money, Dean said, was given by him to a councilman, placed in an envelope and signed by Dean and each of the men involved, each keeping a key until the deal was completed.

Mayor Knott, who was arrested in his office by Sheriff Thomas Grant, gave cash bail of $10,000. He scouted the bribe charges.

VIOLATED EIGHT HOUR LAW.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 11.—The eight hour law for women passed by the recent session of the legislature was declared unconstitutional by Superior Judge John F. Main, who imposed a fine of $20 upon Mrs. Henrietta Somerville, forewoman in a box factory, because she required girls to work more than eight hours a day. Persons testified that it was injurious for women to work nine and ten hours a day. The case will be appealed to the State Supreme court.

FOREIGNERS SEEK*SAFETY IN FLIGHT

Are Leaving Scene of Trouble in China—Anti-Foreign Movement Spreads

Peking, Sept. 11.—Advice received here from Cheng Tu, the capital of Szechuan province, 1500 miles, or about 50 days journey from the coast, are still meagre. Foreigners are complying with the request of the viceroy that they leave. Several warships have been ordered up the Yangtze river, but it is not expected they will be able to proceed further than Chang, a treaty port in Hupeh, 165 miles northeast of Hankow.

It is understood the fugitives are under the escort of Chinese troops, but it is considered questionable if these troops would oppose their people should an attack be made on the foreigners. There are British gunboats on the Yangtze above the gorges which extend from Yehang to Chung King. The American subjects were ordered up the river, but were unable to proceed above Yehang, many hundreds of miles from Cheng Tu. The Americans among the refugees number 30. With the exception of a representative of an American Tobacco company, all are Methodist or Baptist missionaries.

Placards that have been posted in many places state that foreign bankers have been enriching themselves on the poverty-stricken Chinese.

The most influential Chinese newspapers in Peking give unqualified support to the agitation in the provinces and petitions have been presented asking that the railway programme be rescinded and that the provinces be permitted to construct the lines which have been projected by the government with the aid of foreign capital. It is pointed out that a surrender on the part of the government would mean the gravest calamities. In the first place, no railways would be constructed, as it already has been urged by the government that the provincial authorities are incompetent for such a task, as well as corrupt. In the second place, it would practically mean the termination of government control in the provinces, and finally a reactionary lapse would be certain, which some of the legations believe would be the beginning of the Empire's downfall.

The flood situation in China is the most serious in years. From Hankow comes reports that troops are driving the flood refugees from the cities. An English paper in Shanghai says:

"We suppose that half the population of the Yangtze Valley must be supported through the coming winter or starve. Probably this is the most appalling disaster in the history of China."

Riots Feared.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 9.—Anti-foreign placards are being posted in Cheng Tu, according to rumors reaching the state department. British subjects accompanied by other foreigners, have already left Cheng Tu for Chung King where British, French and German gunboats are now lying.

American Charge Williams, at Peking, cabled to-day: "The Chinese press of China generally sides with the Szechuan party. The trouble found an echo in the Chinese capital through a public meeting of Szechuan residents on Thursday, when the removal of Minister of Communications Sheng, who is held responsible for the government's railroad policy, was demanded."

Advice, which reaches the state department from other sources than the American legation not only confirm Mr. Williams' reports of the dissatisfaction of the natives in regard to the railroad projects of the Chinese government, but foreshadow a great extension of the native agitation owing to the distress arising from the floods in the lower Yangtze. These reports state that the great distress is almost certain to cause riots and these probably will assume an anti-foreign phase. In that case, the present disturbance which is confined to the upper reaches of the Yangtze river in Szechuan province, may be expected to extend down the river from Chang to Chin King which country is now under water.

Reports to the navy department today indicate that Admiral Hubbard is rapidly disposing of the American warships under his command for the protection of American interests, insofar as possible. His flagship, the Saratoga, accompanied by the New Orleans and Helena, will leave Shanghai tomorrow to ascend the river as far as Nanking, about 150 miles up the Yangtze. At that point is stationed the Villalobos, a light draft gunboat captured from the Spaniards during the recent war. The Saratoga, New Orleans and Helena probably will stop at Nanking on account of their draft, but the Villalobos, on their arrival, will move up the river to Hankow and take station there. Another little light craft gunboat, the Samar, has been ordered to continue up the river to I-Chang, which is just within the disturbed portion of Szechuan. The Callao is stationed at Hongkong in readiness for river service at a moment's notice.

Admiral Hubbard says he will, if necessary, take the Helena and smaller gunboats as far up the Yangtze as I-Chang, but they will draw too much water to proceed further.

British Press Expresses Doubt as to Authenticity of Message to Montreal Star

London, Sept. 11.—The alleged telegram to the Montreal Star deprecating reciprocity, which Rudyard Kipling is stated to have written, is being commented upon by a section of the British press, which does not believe implicitly that Kipling was the author.

The Morning Leader, commenting upon the dispatch, says: "Unless the Montreal Star has been victimized by a bogus telegram, Kipling has unburdened himself of the most astounding and mischievous nonsense regarding reciprocity. Kipling does not explain where the ten to one odds come in. The obvious view is that when the two countries are exchanging markets the small country which sets the large market is doing much better for itself than the large country which gets the small market. That logically ought to be the protectionist view. The United States, Kipling avers, is a very wicked country, with a much higher percentage of murders than Canada, but if Canada's wheat goes free into the States' stomachs of other, the whole crop of numerous propensities is to be carried into Canada by this great trucks on the return journey."

THINKING THEMES BY DR. FRANK CRANE

There is a sort of Reversed-Plagiarism. That is to say, as plagiarism is passing off as your own, the words of some one else, so reversed-plagiarism is passing off as a quotation, the words which are merely your own.

There is a great temptation to do this. A distinguished name carries conviction. Mark Twain, just for fun, deliberately made up a quotation from Burns, and captured the applause of a Scotch audience. To read some writers, as 'sir' John Lubbock for example, is to feel yourself literally clubbed into conviction by great names. Quotation after quotation is rained upon you, and while you might dare to disagree with Lubbock, you would not venture to question his glittering company. Feeling this force we are tempted to make the noble names say not only what they did say but what they ought to have said. My remark is a musket-ball; if I could lay it to Socrates it would be a ten-pounder. George Ade has a very funny parable in which a Preacher, who had always talked simply and was losing his audience, began to quote from imaginary authors. Including a certain fictitious Icelandic poet, and so became famous. And to prove all this I will quote a real quotation, on me honor—from La Bruyere, who, a long time ago, said: "A good saying often runs the risk of being thrown away when quoted as the speaker's own."

LARGEST OBSERVATORY.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 11.—Plans to erect the largest observatory in the world, on the summit of Mount Tamalpais, have been completed by a syndicate of capitalists, headed by R. C. Runyon of this city. Mr. Runyon has been in conference with the government, experts and other authorities in reference to the project. It is proposed to expend vast sums in the equipment, which is to include a telescope larger than either the Lick or the Yerkes lenses.

WARNED BY DOG.

Lynne, Mass., Sept. 11.—To a barking dog, Thomas J. McLaughlin owes his life. McLaughlin was sound asleep when his house caught fire from a lighted pipe he had left in his pocket. The dog, asleep on a lower floor, rushed to McLaughlin's room and awoke him. Finding escape by the stairs cut off the animal led him to a rear window from which both leaped to safety.

WOMAN'S HIGH FLIGHT.

Hempstead, L. I., Sept. 11.—Miss Matilda Mossant, sister of the dead aviator John B. Mossant, ascended her monoplane here to a height of nearly 1,000 feet. It is believed to be the greatest altitude ever reached by a woman aviator.

BARNARD'S DUALITY.

The morning paper is extremely anxious for Mr. Barnard's election. So anxious, in fact, that it assures its readers that his candidate is not necessarily to be bound to any party affiliations. "He will go to Ottawa—if he goes—not as a Conservative, nor as a Liberal but as a Victorian first, last, and all the time, his organ says. This is a confession in the first instance that he does not expect to sit on the treasury benches, an admission of the defeat of the Conservative party and the return of the Laurier government. If it could mean anything else it would be quite unnecessary for Mr. Barnard to make an announcement of such wishy-washy character. Has Mr. Barnard been in communication with Mr. Borden seeking permission to assure the electorate of Victoria that a section of the new navy will be built at Esquimalt? And has Mr. Borden replied that he is already pledged to build the navy in the Maritime provinces? What other cause could there be for Mr. Barnard to announce that he is prepared to quit Mr. Borden and break with the whole Conservative party in the interests of Victoria? Did Mr. Barnard suppose that Mr. Borden would be weak enough to make any sort of communication which might, by means of forgery, be manipulated as was Borden's telegram at the last election?

"Lone Star" Barnard—Independent member for Victoria? how well it reads. A member of the Conservative party but at daggers drawn with Leader Borden over the locality of navy construction. The people of Victoria asked to vote for Barnard because he forsook can command a following in the House sufficient to over-ride Borden. The spectacle is more ghastly than the annexation lobby. Cannot the genius of the Colonist who temporarily resigned his seat to provide for the publication of this rubbish devise some better scheme for appeal to the electors who are dead in earnest as to the character and reliability as well as the influence of their representative in Ottawa?

THE NEW LIBERALISM.

Under the heading quoted above the Colonist of Sunday morning arrogantly criticises a sentence in a front page comment which appeared in the Times of Saturday. Here is what it said:

"We are told that if we send Liberal Conservative members to Ottawa Sir Wilfrid Laurier will modestly reprove them, if they have the impudence to ask any questions of the government. For a combination of ignorance and insolence the paragraph quoted above is without parallel in the political history of Canada. It is the argument of a newspaper that has gone mad in contemplation of impending defeat."

For the information of the Colonist and the readers of the Times who may not be aware of the fact, it may be stated that the front page article criticised was written by a man who keeps closely in touch with the public pulse and who was simply voicing the sentiments which he had found to be widely prevalent in the city of Victoria. He was speaking the popular sentiment through the columns of this paper and he finds the sentiment which he expressed so prevalent in Victoria that its manifestation on September 21 will probably be a surprise to the Colonist and all who flatter themselves that they can insult the dignity and calm thought of this community by calling it "madness in contemplation of impending defeat."

Nor is such a statement "without parallel in the political history of Canada" as the Colonist intimates. In the last provincial elections no less a person than Attorney-General Bowser stamped the Delta constituency in opposition to Hon. John Oliver. On every hustings where Hon. Mr. Bowser spoke he told the electors that Mr. Oliver was a very good man, a highly respected man, a capable and honorable man, in fact everything that was desirable in a legislator, "but he was not the candidate of the Conservative party; he was not the government candidate." He pointed out and emphasized the fact that the residents of the Delta riding could not expect the same treatment from the government if they elected an opposition candidate as they could expect—and he would see to it that they received—if they elected the party candidate. Mr. Bowser left nothing unsaid on these occasions that could be said to impress upon the electors of John Oliver's former constituency that the Attorney-General had personally made up his mind that that riding would receive not one son from the public benefactions of the government unless it returned "the party candidate."

The electors of the Delta returned the party candidate, defeated Hon. John Oliver and all they have received from the government in reward for their subservience to this coarse and all but criminal threat is a road roller "Made in Chicago," bought for more money than a similar machine could be purchased of Canadian manufacture, and the duty paid on its importation for the purpose of demonstrating to the electors of British Columbia that it is impossible for Canadians to trade with the United States without sacrificing their loyalty. Only the community that elects "the party candidate" can be trusted to buy across the boundary line and only the Hon. Napoleon Bowser carries the brand of loyalty that is immune from discredit when it monkeys with the manufactures of Uncle Sam.

The Times would very much like the Colonist to select some other form of denunciation than that which invariably becomes a boomerang. In every instance when it has criticized Liberal principles or a Liberal candidate or method of advocating reciprocity it has called for a welt in the eye that has made its head swim for days. The very things denounced by it in scathing terms are the things of which its fond pets Bowser, Barnard, and McBride are always offensively guilty.

NOW BOWSER'S TURN.

Hon. Napoleon Bowser is to address those electors of Victoria who care to hear him this evening. Since questions to candidates and to public speakers are the order of the day, the Times has one or two for the Attorney-General. What is the reason or excuse for the malevolent hate which Mr. Bowser always manifests toward the capital city? Why did Mr. Bowser by his political domination of the premier rob Victoria of the provincial university? Why did he secure the appointment of a Government commission to investigate offered locations when he knew that in the end they must decide on Point Grey? If he did not do this, why did he tell the people of Vancouver in a political speech, "that while he could not be quite sure that he had actually made a promise to locate the university at Point Grey they would know in a very few days (when the commission reported) whether he had implemented his undertakings?" What made it necessary for him, in advance of the report of the commission, to announce the decision? The manner in which Mr. Bowser answers these questions will determine the satisfaction with which he will be heard this evening.

Mr. Barnard is in a position to answer the question: "Who forged that telegram?" Also: "Why did he continue to hold a seat obtained by such means?"

Brought in the Carolinas has reduced water power so that 152 cotton mills, employing 70,000 operatives, are shut down.

"B. B. B." the latest adaptation of this trade mark is by the new political party which is at present trying to assimilate professed loyalty and outspoken disloyalty—the Borden-Bourassa-Barnard party.

The science of aviation is to be the chief influence on designs for women's headgear next winter, according to the National Association of Retail Millinery, Chicago. Like the aeroplanes, the hats will be based on two distinct designs, monoplane, with single spreads of plumes, and biplanes. In the display of winter styles such names are found as "sky stars," the "Volplane Turban," and the "Rainbow Spiral," a particularly giddy effect in many colors.

How far-reaching the beneficent results of the ratification of the reciprocity pact may be is instanced in the dispatches of to-day, which announce the willingness of Newfoundland to enter the federation of the Dominion in case of its adoption. There can be no doubt that apart from the value of the pact as a trade agreement, it will do much to solidify the interests, political and otherwise, of all the Anglo-Saxon peoples of the Western Hemisphere. Those under the British flag will be drawn closer and the solidarity of empire enhanced.

Speaking of the periodical business depressions in the United States, the Montreal Star says: "On the other hand, Canada has not known the meaning of 'hard times' for a generation. Our experience has been one of continuous 'boom.' When we stop to think of it, it is nothing short of marvellous that we should have been going from good times to better, without a hiatus for so long." This is a glowing tribute to the Laurier administration. One could carry back the pleasing picture for a "generation," as the Star suggests, were it not for the unforgettable memory of the people of Canada still recall as the period from 1893 to 1896, just before the Tory government was overthrown.

Ottawa Citizen (Conservative), February 21st, 1911: "It will not do to say that we have outgrown the need of such a measure. Our exports of natural products to the United States are only second in volume to our exports to Britain; and, as Sir John used to put it, if we have two free markets instead of one to sell to, it stands to reason we shall be just that much better off."

COAL

off. And, with all respect for those who think otherwise, it seems to the Citizen to follow as an irresistible conclusion that our increased prosperity will bring about a stauncher and more generous loyalty to Canada and to Great Britain, especially among those new races and peoples from various parts of the earth who are flocking by tens and hundreds of thousands into the Canadian west." Every Conservative should vote for reciprocity.

The Pittsburg-Washburn Flour Mills Company, of Minneapolis, is now in effect an English company. A meeting of the shareholders was held in London on July 2 to consider business matters of moment. The chairman, Thos. Skinner (a director, by the way, of the Canadian Pacific Railway), had this to say about reciprocity: "As regarded the proposed reciprocity treaty with Canada, it was the opinion of the directors that it would be advantageous to that country as well as to the United States. They believed that the great advantage to be derived would be in the fact that it would have a strong tendency to eliminate speculation in wheat, as it would destroy the possibility of any set of men getting possession of the wheat tributary to the miller and holding it at prices out of range of competition with the world at large. On the other hand, it would have a tendency to regulate and make more stable the grain market of the world."

Mr. Thomas Donovan publishes in Sunday's Colonist a letter announcing his conversion from Liberalism to Conservatism, on the ground that reciprocity will not be of any benefit to the workingmen. Up to two weeks ago—eight months after the reciprocity agreement was placed before parliament—Mr. Donovan was an earnest advocate of the agreement, but very suddenly—all in one night as it were—he obtained new light on the great economic question, and he is to-day as vigorous and quite as sincere a flag-waver as any on of the professional politicians of Mr. Barnard's committee. Mr. Donovan claims to be a workman. No doubt he is. Driving a city-owned automobile from place to place while superintending the work on the streets is a workman's job just as much as any other honest employment is, but it is less arduous, physically, than the work performed by the men he is superintending. But for reasons not stated his point of view suddenly changed like that of the millionaire Liberals of Toronto, and his "interests," like theirs, compel him to "right about face." Neither the Toronto insurgents nor Mr. Donovan have given the real reason for abandoning long-held principles; that reason will appear before many weeks have passed.

A WRITER'S NOTE.

The following is an extract from a personal letter to a member of the Times staff from a writer over the sea. Its encouragement is so significant and its seizing of the situation so complete that it is reproduced.

"It must be a splendid contest; I mean splendid in the sense that it should engage your whole nature. To feel that it is unnecessary to plead for party interests or champion misundirected leaders or defend alleged wrongdoers; to feel that party interests and party loyalty for the nonce may be left out of mind; that the cause is away and above these, must be inspiring. Such a work should be, and I have no doubt you find it, not only noble but ennobling; calling for the best that is in mind and heart. How different from any position where you would be obliged to prostitute brain and genius in the bolstering of an unholy cause. This, we here in England take it, is the cause of 'the people' in Canada. This has our earnest sympathy, as you would know, and it must be cheering to you to feel when the battle is over, and you have won it so far as your work could do so in your own community, that you had truly spent yourself for the common cause and not for pelf or gold. I say, that must be a joyous work."

BORDEN'S BEST.

(Montreal Herald).

This campaign might convince Mr. Borden what his party friends want is not a policy so much, but a man who can win elections any way, every way, no matter how, so long as he lands with the goods. He isn't that kind of a man himself, but he is giving the best imitation he knows how.

Why Employ An Architect?

People very naturally ask themselves this question, and sometimes think they can save money by building a house from ready-made plans without consulting an architect. This is a grave error. If you stop to think about it for a moment you will readily see why. It is an over-simplification of the old saying that "he who plans his own case has a fool for a client." An architect who has devoted his lifetime to a study of his profession and the thousand and one details connected with design, arrangement and construction can not only give his client a stronger and more beautiful house than can possibly be obtained in a haphazard way, but he can save him hundreds of dollars on the cost. Comfort, convenience, beauty and economy are so essential to happiness that the employment of a competent and conscientious architect is as wise a step as any home builder can possibly take.

C. N. R. PRESIDENT*RETURNS TO CITY

Sir William Mackenzie in Victoria to Complete Business Discussed Here Lately

The president of the Canadian Northern Railway, Sir William Mackenzie, who was in the city as recently as August 17 on the business of the Canadian Collieries, over which litigation is pending with James Dunsmuir, and other financial interests in which the C. N. R. have invested in Vancouver Island, returned to the city yesterday. In the party were Lady Mackenzie, Col. and Mrs. A. D. Davidson (Col. Davidson being head of the land department of the C. N. R.), Mrs. Mitchell, and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. McRae. Mr. McRae is vice-president of the collieries, and president of the Canadian Western Lumber Company, which has the largest mill on the Pacific coast, located on the Fraser river, and has large timber holdings on Vancouver Island.

Another leading C. N. R. official with Sir William is T. G. Holt, executive agent. They reached Victoria on the Princess Adelaide, and went for a drive in the afternoon.

In the course of a brief conversation with a Times representative Sir William said the party would be in the capital for three or four days, as he had to complete a number of matters affecting Canadian Northern interests, which had engaged his attention in the former visit, and which had also occupied Sir Donald Mann when he was here nine days ago, and these would require him to meet a number of people, including representatives of the local government.

Sir William does not talk politics, and will not be drawn into any discussion of reciprocity. His recent visit to England, strengthened his well-known views on the confidence of British investors in Canadian enterprises, and he has no doubt money will continue to flow as freely as usual, guaranteeing there is no interruption of public credit by wild-cat schemes. During the day Sir William conferred with Premier McBride and other members of the executive on matters affecting constructional work on the island and the Mainland, and saw a number of visitors on financial propositions in which the Mackenzie-Mann interests have acquired control.

Arrangements have not yet been made as to whether any inspection trip will be made over the portion of the grade completed in the Fraser valley west of Chilliwack. Coming through in the night, Sir William said, they had no chance on the occasion to examine the activities of the contractors in the Fraser canyons, between Hope and Lytton, on the portions of C. N. R. work for which contracts were let this summer.

ADAPTATION IN BUSINESS

"Adaptation in Business and Marriage" was the subject of Prof. Knox's fourth lecture, given last night in the Hibben building hall, 1122 Government street. This is a subject in which all are interested. Prof. Knox said in his lecture:

"Only the few have found and followed the thing they were adapted for, among which are W. E. Gladstone, Thomas Edison and Napoleon. There are thousands of people, graduates from schools, who have not the slightest idea what they are best fitted for, when the study of themselves would teach them more than so many text books, learned and forgotten. Study the practical; do the thing you desire; be a selecting factor. When Webster graduated he was without friends or money. He was asked to accept the position of recorder, to which he replied: 'No, I will make records for others to record.'"

"There is not one in the house but what has a better chance to make records and a success than Webster, Edison and many others. Use the mathematical law of concrete reasoning, accumulate and build the things you want. Most of our great men and women knew what they were going to do and accomplished in life before the age of 12 years. Children know more than their parents. Let them express their ideas, for that is the way they grow. Everyone's head and body is the result of their own thoughts and acts."

Prof. Knox delineated several of his audience and illustrated the facilities and combinations best adapted for success.

A special lesson lecture this evening will be "How to Overcome Death and Live Here Forever."

DISMAL SATURDAY*AT VICTORIA FAIR*RAIN CRUSHED HOPES OF BIG ATTENDANCE*Lack of Properly Constructed Walks—Exhibition Not a Success Financially

Victoria's fifty-first annual fair closed on Saturday under most dismal circumstances; the rain pouring down all afternoon and evening and dealing a crushing blow to the directors' hopes of a big attendance to wind up with. Owing to the exceptional card of races the grandstand was filled during the afternoon, but taken altogether the patronage was very slim indeed.

Although the exhibition as a whole and particularly the showing made by island farmers and local business firms was very creditable and deserving of better support, it is practically a certainty that financially it was not a success. Thursday, the civic holiday, was really the only good day the association had, the attendance on that day being 14,000 and the receipts probably as great as have ever been taken in at the local show. On the two previous days, Tuesday and Wednesday, the receipts were small, as is usually the case, these days being considered more or less as preliminary to the rush on the closing three.

But on Friday and Saturday the association suffered a grievous disappointment. Instead of fine weather and consequent big crowds the clouds showered down their unwelcome contents intermittently but constantly enough to keep the grounds in a soggy, marshy condition and kept at home all but those who are always ready to brave the weather no matter how inclement, to attend an attraction with the merits of Victoria's annual fair. The B. C. Agricultural Association deserves the deepest sympathy in this outcome of its untiring efforts to make this year's fair a success, both financially and otherwise, particularly when it is considered that the date this year had been set one month ahead of the usual time in order to avoid rains.

The disagreeable effects of the rain might have been offset considerably, however, if there were properly constructed walks and roads on the grounds. Except from the gate to the women's building there has not been a single bit of grading done on a grounds, and as for sidewalks, a plank across a particularly muddy spot is considered all that is necessary. The visitor in going from building to building or to the grandstand or horse show building is forced to tramp through soaking wet grass and, in some cases, through mud ankle deep. This condition of affairs naturally did not tend to attract patrons even during the hours when the rain held off.

In comparison with the other days Saturday at the fair was very dull. There was an absolute lack of the gaiety and liveliness which had been imparted by the "ten cent" show people and vendors of sweetmeats, who, with their continual racket and din, added immeasurably to the cheeriness and holiday spirit on the grounds.

When it commenced to rain on Saturday at noon these people, seeing that all chance of a clear day was gone and to avoid passing another night in the open under such conditions, dismantled their booths without further ado and carted their belongings to the boat. In consequence, the visitors were forced to devote their entire attention to the more instructive side of the show, in the many exhibits in the main and second buildings, which, although of course the chief object of the fair requires the lighter and more festive accompaniment to render its enjoyment complete.

THE MARBLE BATHS.

Handsome Baths and Shaving Parlors Opened in Sayward Block.

The Marble Baths and Shaving Parlors of Henry Ball, situated in the basement of the Sayward block, if not the largest are certainly among the most up-to-date, sanitary and comfortable of any in the city. Mr. Ball was for years in charge of the San Francisco Barber shop on Troncyne avenue, and feels that in moving to the new block he is following the trend of business along the lines of Victoria's present development.

The new premises gives him increased accommodation for his large clientele, and will draw an expanding business by reason of their attractiveness. The floor being tiled throughout, no dirt can collect, and the chairs, six in number, are of the most modern type, being both capacious and comfortable. The walls are tiled partially, at any rate as far up as dust could collect, making cleaning operations an easy matter.

The plate glass mirrors have each been encased in marble frames, and are fine specimens of the glass-maker's art. The staff is adequate to meet any demands, and every style of modern hairdressing can be handled promptly. Attached to the shaving parlors are the baths, possessing every convenience for the customer, hot and cold water being laid on, and the bathrooms having the same high-class fittings as other parts of the parlors.

Mr. Ball is deservedly popular and has a large number of patrons, whom he will be pleased to see in his new parlors.

EMPEROR GRILL ALTERATIONS.

Present Billiard Room Spaced to Be Utilized for Grill.

Arrangements have been made for a notable improvement at the Emperor hotel, whereby the grill room accommodation will be greatly increased. As this part of the hotel is largely patronized by residents of the city as well as guests, the pressure on the existing space forces steps to be taken as soon as possible to increase the floor room of the grill. This will be done by utilizing what is now the billiard room for the grill, and the present grill room will be used to accommodate billiard tables. The plans will not prove detrimental to the billiard room; plenty of space being left for play.

The alterations will be commenced as soon as the plans are received, which will be shortly. The changed conditions will involve the kitchen for which a new location will be found, on the raised platform along the east side of the present billiard room. The bar counter is also to be extended along the west side of the bar.

NEW RECORD SET UP FOR WILLOWS TRACK

Bland S. in Drizzling Rain and on Heavy Track Goes Mile in 2:14

Despite miserable weather the races of Saturday afternoon were the most remarkable of the meet, inasmuch as one, the free-for-all trot, was productive of a new mile record for the track. Bland S. closely pressed by Dr. B. P. went better than the local record of 2:16 1/2 in two heats of this race, covering the distance in 2:15 and 2:14, and winning the most important event of the exhibition races. The significance of the feat does not lie in the fact that he set up a new mark, as that was expected, but in the fact that he did it in a drizzling rain and on a very heavy track.

Bland S. has a record of 2:06 1/2, and his driver stated after the race that, had the track been in sound condition, the horse would have made the heat in Spokane and Vancouver broke even in Saturday's double-header. Vancouver won the first game, 5 to 2, bunting hits on young Houck in the fourth. Spokane took the second game, 4 to 2, by timely hitting. Errors by Brashear, Bennett, and Rasmussen made the game a cinch in the sixth and seventh. The batting of Melchior, James and Cooney and the fielding of Nordyke and Cooney were features.

Tacoma-Seattle game postponed on account of rain.

VICTORIA CAPTURED SERIES AT PORTLAND

Won Five Games Out of Seven—Broke Even With Pippins Yesterday

Portland, Sept. 11.—Portland and Victoria broke even in a double-header yesterday, each team gaining a victory. In the first game Maxmeyer, in the box for Portland, got a bad start. In the first inning the first three men up bunted and the procession to first got the young man rattled. The visitors got five hits and four runs in the first. After that Maxmeyer steadied somewhat, but in all Victoria slammed him for fourteen hits and put three more over the plate. In the second game Bloomfield, for Portland, pitched a magnificent game, shutting the visitors out and allowing but five hits. Miller, for Victoria, was not in his usual form and was batted freely. ALL-STAR LEAD BY ONE
Vancouver Won Saturday 4-3—Westminster Must Take Next by 2 to Hold Title.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 11.—Who is going to win the Minto Cup? This query will probably go the rounds in lacrosse circles throughout Canada this week, and will not be answered until next Saturday, when the teams come together in Vancouver in the final match.

In one of the finest exhibitions of the national game ever witnessed in the west, Vancouver, defeated the Minto Cup holders on their own ground Saturday. Next Saturday Vancouver will entertain the champions here.

The team scoring the majority of goals in the two matches will take possession of the silverware for the season.

On Saturday, Vancouver finished one goal in front, the score being 4 to 3.

The Vancouver boys didn't go on the field imbued with the idea that they had the match clinched, and this probably had much to do with their fine work. On the other hand, the champions appeared altogether too confident, and seemed to regard the game as won before the teams started off on their strenuous grid.

When the champions, urged on by their supporters, did settle down, they played in the old-time style, their rushes were ever dangerous, but they went up against a veritable stone wall defence that played lacrosse in every minute. The Vancouver home, on the other hand, was far more effective, and it was undoubtedly the generalship of Spokane and Vancouver broke even in Saturday's double-header. Vancouver won the first game, 5 to 2, bunting hits on young Houck in the fourth. Spokane took the second game, 4 to 2, by timely hitting. Errors by Brashear, Bennett, and Rasmussen made the game a cinch in the sixth and seventh. The batting of Melchior, James and Cooney and the fielding of Nordyke and Cooney were features.

Tacoma-Seattle game postponed on account of rain.

Portland, Sept. 11.—Jack Williams held Portland down to three hits in Saturday's game. He pitched a beautiful game throughout. Errors by Moore and Coltrin gave the visitors a lead of two runs. The visitors batted Jensen at opportune times. Muddy grounds greatly hampered the players. The score:

SETS NEW WIRELESS RECORD FOR PACIFIC

Operator at Estevan Talks With Canada Maru 2,000 Miles Away

While on Saturday it was thought that the limit in long-distance talking by wireless had been reached when the operator at Estevan communicated on Friday night with the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Canada Maru 1,700 miles away, a little over twenty-four hours later the same station was speaking with the same steamship 2,000 miles at sea. Just after midnight on Saturday, the operator at the West Coast station picked up the position of the Maru in mid-ocean, which was as follows: Lat. 52.10; long. 171.27.

Estevan without dispute can claim the long distance talking record; for never before in the history of the Pacific has any station communicated with a steamship so far at sea without having the messages relayed by other vessels. The operators at Estevan have on more than one occasion spoken steamships at a tremendous distance but the record of Saturday night has never before been approached by anything nearer than 1,700 miles.

At 2 o'clock this morning the Estevan station was speaking with the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Awa Maru, now on her way from Yokohama and Far Eastern ports for Victoria. Her position was given as lat. 49.53 and long. 144.07 or 665 miles from Estevan. The skipper of the steamship reported that he would not reach the William Head quarantine station until daybreak on Thursday morning.

As part of her cargo, the Awa Maru has 724 bales of silk, and 194 cases of silk goods, valued at nearly $400,000, 738 bales of matting and 1,511 cases of Japanese bolls. The big steamship will discharge about 300 tons of freight at this port before proceeding to Seattle. It was expected that she would have been in port on Wednesday afternoon and been at the Sound metropolis early the following morning.

When the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Tacoma Maru, Capt. Tamamoto, gets away from here next Saturday for Yokohama she will have aboard one of the largest flour and wheat shipments that has left the Sound for several months. She is now at Tacoma taking on several thousand sacks of flour and a large consignment of wheat. The steamship will also carry 4,000 cases of salmon for Manila, 119 sewing machines, eighteen phono-

FORTY-FIVE HOURS SPENT ON BRIDGE

Capt. Barney Johnson Gets Five Hours Sleep Out of Fifty in Dense Fogs

Catching a wink of sleep now and then as the dense fog lifted a little, Capt. Barney Johnson, master of the Grand Trunk Pacific steamer Prince Rupert, which arrived in port yesterday morning from the north, was enabled out of fifty hours to have a total of five hours in which to slumber. During the southbound passage the Rupert was in the midst of fierce fogs from the time she left Stewart until she neared Seymour Narrows and owing to the treacherousness of the coast it was necessary for the skipper to be on the bridge continuously.

In making the run from Stewart to Rupert the steamer took two hours and was five hours late when she reached the Sound on Saturday night. At some places the vessel crept along at a slow pace as it was impossible to see even a ship's length ahead. The officers of the Rupert state that the trip was the worst they have had this season, and that it was necessary to bring the vessel to almost a dead stop at times, as the shore during the fifty hours the ship was forcing her way through the awful fog. When the Rupert was about to negotiate Seymour Narrows the mist gradually lifted and finally cleared away.

As usual the Prince Rupert brought a large number of passengers south, including the following: C. E. Scott, W. W. Moore, Miss Wright, J. A. Torne, G. Beattie, Mrs. and Miss Lester, D. R. Young, J. D. McDonald, A. Allen, D. S. McDonald, A. K. Stevenson, Miss Peterson, J. Olson, P. C. Coates, Miss B. Major, Miss L. Major, Miss E. Flynn, S. G. Hayes and Miss Aiton.

The barge Washington, which has been at Tacoma for two or three weeks, has shifted to the O. & O. mill, where she will load a cargo of lumber for San Francisco. She belongs to the Alaska Barge Company's fleet.

TAKES MANY GOSPEL TEACHERS TO ORIENT

Sado Maru Has Number of Missionaries Aboard—Capt. Richards' Notable Career

Carrying a band of missionaries, several of whom are returning to their fields of labor in the Orient after furthering in America and others who are on their first visit to the Far Eastern Empires, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Sado Maru, Capt. Richards left the Outer Dock on Saturday afternoon about 6 o'clock for Yokohama and Hongkong. The steamship also carried forty stowage passengers and 4,000 tons of freight, which consisted principally of flour and wheat.

Among the missionaries who left on the Maru were the following: Miss Ana Dowd, Aberdeen, Miss. who has spent twenty years in mission work in Japan; Miss Estelle Lumpkin, of Dallas, Tex.; Miss Anna Patton, of Mexico, Miss. Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. J. Logan, Miss Lucy B. Monday and Miss J. Leavitt. Wilhelm Schunherr, a German army officer, making a tour of the Orient, was also a passenger.

One of the few remaining Caucasian masters in the rapidly growing Japanese merchant fleet is Capt. James Charles Richards, commander of the Sado Maru. When the merchant fleet of Japan was in its infancy, American and English masters, with an occasional native of Northern Europe, acted as captains on the few vessels the country then possessed, but as soon as the Nipponese mastered the knowledge essential to a modern ship master they established schools to train their own young men to fill the positions which were being constantly created by the launching of new steamships and the expansion of various lines. As a result, the ships which fly the red ball are now, with an occasional exception, as in the case of Captain Richards, manned by Japanese from the stokehole to the bridge.

Captain Richards has been honored with decorations on several different occasions, but prizes nothing more highly than the Order of the Rising Sun, bestowed on him by the Mikado for his bravery in rescuing under fire the crew of the Japanese battleship Hitachi, which had been riddled by the Russian fleet and was sinking. Captain Richards was at that time on the Tosa Maru which has been pressed into service as an army transport.

Captain Richards became known to shipping men the world over last spring when he succeeded in transferring the masts from the shipless liner Minnesota to his own vessel in mid-pacific. This was the first time on record such a feat was ever successfully attempted, and he is said to have received credit that not a single bag was lost or damaged, although a heavy sea was running at the time.

Captain Richards has acquired a considerable reputation as a life-saver through his good fortune in rescuing the crews of wrecked vessels on several different occasions.

Captain Richards has been going to sea for twenty-two years, and, in fact, shortly after he graduated from Beckley College, Suffolk, decided that he would cast his lot with the sea-farers. Shifting from vessel to vessel, he drifted into the Orient and finally into the service of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, with which line he has been connected for thirteen years. He is a pioneer in the trade between Victoria and the Orient, and has been at different times in the Kanaga Maru, Aki Maru and Hiroshima Maru.

FIT NEW PROPELLER BLADES TO RUPERT

Steamer Went Into Dry Dock Yesterday—Goes North With Many Passengers

Upon her arrival from Stewart yesterday morning the G. T. P. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. Johnson, after disembarking her passengers bound for this port, proceeded around to Esquimalt and was floated into the dry dock to have some repairs effected. The steamer had chipped several of her propeller blades by scraping in the harbor recently, and the officials of the company decided to dock her and have new ones put on.

Little time was taken in carrying out the work, and the steamer got away on time this morning for Stewart and Prince Rupert. While in dock the vessel's hull was also cleaned and painted. As a result of having to undergo the repairs the Rupert was unable to make her regular trip to Seattle yesterday morning. Consequently she got away this morning without her usual amount of Sound freight and passengers, although some of the latter will board the vessel at Vancouver to-night.

Among the passengers who left here on the Rupert this morning were the following: Miss Lester, J. T. L. Meyer, Miss Humphries, Mrs. G. R. Humphries, C. Marks, L. Marks, H. Wilson, L. Angus and F. M. Rattenbury, the local architect, whom it is believed is going north in connection with the new hotel to be erected by the G. T. P. at Prince Rupert. The steamer loaded about fifty tons of cargo here, consisting of general merchandise.

On Wednesday morning the Prince George, Capt. Frank Saunders, will be in port from Prince Rupert. She got away from the G. T. P. terminal this morning with a large number of passengers, many of whom are for Victoria.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

The steam fog alarm at east entrance to Active Pass will be undergoing extensive alterations on or about 1st October owing to the installation of a diaphone fog signal, therefore, mariners are notified that during these alterations a steam whistle will be installed and operated in place of the present fog signal and until the diaphone is established.

RAFT POUNDS TO PIECES

Six Million Feet of Logs Scattered About Mouth of Columbia River.

Astoria, Ore., Sept. 11.—Founded by heavy seas the six million-foot Hammond Lumber Company's raft, which rounded on Peacock Spit, Saturday, went to pieces yesterday. The efforts of five vessels including the Snohomish, Dauntless, Hercules, Oneonta, and Wallula, to pull the big raft off the bar, proved futile. The logs are now scattered across the bar and far into the ocean and up the Columbia river, being a menace to shipping.

The raft was valued at about $60,000. Crews of men are at work saving as many logs as they can.

ALAMEDA FOGBOUND

Sound Steamer Has Been Anchored off Kennedy Island for Many Hours.

Wireless reports received here at noon today from Prince Rupert state that the steamer Alameda, which operates between Seattle and Alaskan ports, is fogbound off Kennedy Island. Her skipper reported that he dropped anchor there at 2 o'clock this morning and up till 5.30 o'clock was still awaiting the lifting of the fog.

After discharging her Victoria cargo, the Blue Funnel liner Oanfa left here Saturday evening for Vancouver with the remainder of her freight.

MARINE NOTES

The Blue Funnel liner Antiochus arrived at Greenock Saturday from Victoria via Oriental ports.

The German ship Hans arrived at Portland Saturday from Callao. She is under charter to load grain for Europe.

With 175 tons of copper ore from Ladysmith, the little British steamer Selkirk arrived Saturday night at the Tacoma smelter.

En route to San Francisco and Tacoma, via west coast ports, the Kosmos steamer Hermonthis is reported leaving Antwerp Thursday.

Carrying lumber and general freight from Sound ports, the Kosmos liner Sabkara is reported arriving at Quayside Saturday. She is en route to Hamburg.

The steamer Graywood shifted to Tacoma Saturday from down Sound to load a cargo of lumber for New York and is at the St. Paul & Tacoma Lumber Company's dock.

When the American barque Acme leaves Tacoma with her cargo of lumber and huge timbers for New York and Bath she will not only have the largest cargo she has ever carried but will put to sea with the largest lumber cargo taken by a sailing vessel from Puget Sound. The vessel is loading at Tacoma and will probably finish her cargo the latter part of this week.

Only about five more days left to take advantage of the low prices prevailing on our Fort street subdivision. People have certainly seen the investment possibilities of these lots with the result that up to Saturday morning 48 lots had been sold and some reserved. Several people have decided to build in this subdivision under the building restriction of $1,500. This restriction eliminates shacks, and yet imposes no great hardship on anyone.

The streets are being graded and water will be laid to these homes as required by the builders. And these lots do make choice homesites. They are large enough for a good garden (50x145), and run to a 20 ft. lane in each case. The soil is very suitable for garden purposes. Another important consideration to the homebuilder in this subdivision is that the Fort street car line runs past the property which insures an easy access to down town. This is also important to the investor for values always have a greater tendency to increase in the vicinity of a car line.

It will certainly pay you to take the Fort street car and get off at Foul Bay Road, and inspect this property. A large sign faces Fort street. Do this to-day.

RIBBONS WON BY VICTORIA HORSES

HIGH JUMP RECORD REMAINS UNTOUCHED

J. G. French Wins Blue and Red From Andrew Laidlaw's High Stepping Pony

Seven feet two inches, the height set by Fox Catcher two years ago at the horse show for high-jumping horses, remained unequalled and unbeaten when the last event of the 1911 horse show was completed on Saturday and J. G. French's Premier was announced the winner this year, with the moderate jump of 5 feet 11 1/2 inches. The horse show, which from point of view of quality of entries and generous attendance has been better than either of the two previous annual shows of the B. C. Agricultural association, came to a close with an attendance curtailed owing to the rain, and although there were many who braved the downpour, the boxes and benches were not well filled.

Victoria exhibitors obtained a majority of the prizes winning everything in section four, draught horses, gaining first in carriage pairs, getting first and second in high stepping ponies, and first in the 200 pound hunters class.

But three entries tried for the ribbons in the high jump, Premier, the winner, Muskrat and Ruby, Ruby which has been shown in nearly every class of saddle and jumping with much success during the week, jumped 4 feet 9 inches, before touching, and the final contest was then left to Premier and Muskrat, the latter getting second and being owned by J. A. Caldwell, Vancouver.

Miss Helen Farrell of Seattle presented a handsome cup for competition in class 22, mare or gelding, to lady's phanton, lady to drive. Her donation was announced while the judge, S. F. Fuller, was inspecting the eight entries. The cup goes along to Spokane with Hillcrest Diamond, another of the Laidlaw entries, and that so there should be no doubt about the matter the public cheered the decision when Mr. Fuller decorated the gelding with the blue, and then sandwiched in an entry of W. Sharpe for second place between Hillcrest Diamond and another Laidlaw exhibit.

J. G. French entered the high-stepper Belmont Daisy, one of his tandem team that won Wednesday night, in the high stepping pony class Saturday night, and had the pleasure of beating the entry from Andrew Laidlaw's stud, and also the better satisfaction of beating Mr. Laidlaw twice, making Sunshine take third place while he won the class with Fairview Adonis, and second with Belmont Daisy.

Mrs. B. W. Pearce, Victoria, beat Miss Stimson's entry for novice carriage horses; Lange & Co.'s Captain and Major, looking like warriors, were winners from magnificent pairs in the draught class, in which, and in delivery, the Victoria entries had made triumphs all the week.

The final high-stepping contest was covered completely by Vancouver exhibitors who came through the test with all three ribbons; Andrew Laidlaw entered Dorothea and Hillcrest Diamond and obtained the blue in pairs class 23, and entered Sunshine, beaten in the high-stepping class, in the 13 to 14 1/2 pony class, where another blue was obtained to decorate the Spokane stud home. The Laidlaw entries have been the most successful of any during the show having entered in every available class and never being out of the colors.

Now that the show is over until the promised spring horse show comes on it would be well if the directors of the B. C. Agricultural Association took steps to provide permanent press accommodation in the building. During the week, as at all former shows, the newspaper men have had to do their work under great difficulties.

The results in detail of Saturday's judging were as follows:

Section 4—Pair draught horses, each to weigh under 1,600 lbs., and not less than 1,400 lbs., shown to appropriate vehicle, certificate of weight to be furnished if asked for—1, Captain, b.g., 5 years, and Major, b.g., 5 years, exhibited by Lange & Co., Victoria; 2, Shorty and Nelly, J. Richards, Victoria; 3, Nell, b.g., and Nigger, b.g., F. H. Stewart & Co., Victoria.

Section 34—Pony, other than Shetland, not exceeding 15 hands, three years old and over, driven by a boy or girl under 16 years. Pony, 75 per cent., appointments 25 per cent.—1, Clover, r. g., 6 years, exhibited by Miss Helen Farrell, Seattle; 2, exhibited by D. C. McGregor, Vancouver.

Section 14—Pair carriage horses; novice, 14 1/2 and over—1, His Excellence, b. g., and Lady Bird, b.m., exhibited by Mrs. B. W. Pearce, Victoria; 2, exhibited by Miss Stimson.

Section 14—High-steppers, pony, under 14 1/2, shown to appropriate vehicle—1, Fairview Adonis, b.g., 5 years, exhibited by Jas. G. French, Victoria; 2, Belmont Daisy, ch.m., 4 years, Jas. G. French; 3, Sunshine, ch.m., Andrew Laidlaw, Spokane.

Section 43—Lady's saddle horse, 3 years and over, ridden by lady—1, Highland Marksman, b.g., 4 years, exhibited by Miss Laura Galbraith, Seattle; 2, Searchlight, b.m., Andrew Laidlaw, Spokane; 3, Secret Communion, b.m., T. J. Smith, Vancouver.

Section 22—Mare or gelding, shown to lady's phanton, lady to drive; horses to count 50 per cent., phanton 25 per cent.—1, Hillcrest Diamond, ch.g., 3 years, exhibited by Andrew Laidlaw, Spokane; 2, 10, exhibited by W. Sharpe; 3, 11, exhibited by Dorothy A. Laidlaw.

Section 25—Pony, exceeding 13 hands and under 14 1/2 (3 years old and over). First, Sunshine, exhibited by Andrew Laidlaw, Spokane; 2, Gold Dust, Dr. Doherty.

Section 46—Hunters' horses; heavy-weight, up to carrying 200 pounds, and when shown must carry not less than this weight; conformation and quality to count 50 per cent., performance over fences 50 per cent.—First, Never Mind, exhibited by Mrs. P. Burns, Calgary; 2, Muskrat, Jos. A. Caldwell, Vancouver.

Section 23—Pair of mares or geldings, shown to lady's phanton, lady to drive; horses to count 50 per cent., carriage 25 per cent., harness 15 per cent., livery 10 per cent.—First, Dorothea and Hillcrest Diamond, exhibited by Andrew Laidlaw, Spokane; 2, Florham Wanda and Florham Duchess, Miss Stimson; 3, exhibited by W. Sharpe.

Section 25—High-steppers; horse, 14 1/2 and under 15 1/2, shown to appropriate vehicle; First, Lord Ruth, exhibited by D. C. McGregor, Vancouver; 2, Brigham Pearl, S. L. Howe, Vancouver; 3, Culraven Extravagant Queen, W. S. Holland, Vancouver.

Section 52—High jump; first trial with bars 5 feet; then raised to 5 feet 6 inches; to 6 feet, and then 3 inches at a time until the contest is decided. Three trials allowed each horse at the different heights: First, Premier, exhibited by J. D. Farrell, Seattle; 2, Muskrat, Jos. A. Caldwell, Vancouver.

FOR BALD HEADS

A Treatment That Costs Nothing If It Fails.

We want you to try three large bottles of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic on our personal guarantee that the trial will not cost you a penny if it does not give you absolute satisfaction. That's proof of our faith in this remedy, and it should indisputably demonstrate that when we say that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will grow hair on bald heads, except where baldness has been of long duration that the roots of the hair are entirely dead, the follicles closed and grown over, and the scalp is glazed.

Remember, we are basing our statements upon what has already been accomplished by the use of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, and we have the right to assume that what it has done for thousands of others it will do for you. In any event you cannot lose anything by giving it a trial on our liberal guarantee. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. ## PASSING SHOW

Princess Theatre.

Hal Reid's masterpiece, "Roanoke," is the offering for the coming week. As its name denotes it is a southern drama. At the time of writing, the author was travelling through the south, and every one of his characters are taken from real life. The Williams company is well suited to the presentation of this play, each member having played their respective roles many times, so there will be none of the roughness or hesitation incidental to a new production.

The blind girl will be played by Miss Pinkie Mullally and the sweet serenity with which she bears her terrible affliction is only equalled by the great happiness she displays when sight is again restored. Mr. Van Dyke's part of "Joe" gives him a chance to do some clever acting, while Mr. Cyril as a West Point cadet is happily cast. The remainder of the company is well cast, especially Miss Ora Wolff, who has a capital part as Old Aunt Dinah, a unique southern character.

Francis Manton, a new member of the company, who comes highly recommended, will make his first appearance in "Roanoke."

Majestic Theatre.

The first-of-the-week bill is headed by a big feature entitled "For Her Brother's Sake," an immensely powerful drama, forceful in its appeal to human sympathy and emphatic in its portrayal of brotherly love and family honor. "At the Gringo Mine," a fine western picture. "The Free Lance," a fine mountain bandit, captures a young girl, because he falls in love with her, he frees her and gives himself up to the police. This incident is dramatically told among beautiful scenery, probably in Sicily.

"The Ghost," two spinsters live in a haunted house. Three crooks learn that the house is haunted and each separately plays the ghost. The picture of those old ladies in bed is alone almost sufficient to make the picture go. "Temples of India," a fine travelogue showing several of the temples of India, can be criticized only as giving us too little, but everyone will agree that it gives much more than our money's worth. "Jink Joins the Temperance Club," a big biograph comedy.

"Cousin Kate."

Miss Jeanne Russell gave another capital impersonation of "Cousin Kate" to a small house at the Victoria theatre on Saturday. The audience were kept in the best of temper by the broad humor of the comedy, and the happy ending to the apparently hopeless entanglement formed a fitting climax. Frank Case made an excellent curate, and the hero's part was in good hands. R. T. Brandon doing his best work in the second act.

Empress Theatre.

Rice and Carly, two German comedians with a novelty in distorted German-English, are the top liners this week at the Empress theatre, and Manager Wisner promises his patrons a laughing entertainment without a serious moment while the act is on the boards.

Ida Barr, a delightful singer and comedienne from the English music halls, is the feature act of the bill, and will sing English songs. The musical family of the late Jules Levy is billed for a musical melange on several instruments, particularly the violin and cornet; Miller and Mack, a dance team of boys, and Albert Weston and Nellis Lynch are to portray two characters in a new sketch, "The Painting Girl." Original music and moving pictures by the Empresscope complete the programme.

The use of the wedding ring is first noted in Egypt, when the ring was the emblem of eternity.

VICTORIA WEST ARE SOCCER CHAMPIONS

Played the V. A. C. Late
Senior Champions, to a
Draw on Saturday

Vancouver, Sept. 11.—Victoria West won the senior amateur soccer championship of British Columbia Saturday at Recreation Park by playing the V. A. C. senior amateur champions of the Mainland to a goalless draw in the final game of a series of two in which total goals counted. Victoria won the first game at the capital on Labor Day.

The game was fairly played all the way through, neither team showing up in anything like mid-season form. The forwards on both sides had chances galore to score at various periods during the game, but they never gave either goalkeeper much trouble. There was very little combination displayed and if a stray piece of work was shown it was spoiled when the ball came near the nets.

INTERNATIONAL TENNIS

Americans Scored Heavily in Preliminary Davis Cup Matches Against British Team.

New York, Sept. 11.—America scored heavily Saturday in the first series of the preliminary matches to determine whether players of this country or of Great Britain shall constitute the challenging team for the Davis International Tennis Cup, now held by Australia. Two matches in singles were played on the turf courts of the West Side Tennis Club, and both were won by the Americans, against whom were pitted two of the British players. The matches were close, each taking the full limit of five sets.

W. A. Larned, American champion, defeated C. H. Dixon, England, 6-3, 2-6, 6-2, 2-4, 7-5.

In the late match, M. E. McLoughlin, of California, defeated A. H. Low, British Isles, 7-5, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3.

These victories gave the Americans two points out of the series of five matches, of which the doubles follow on Monday and the other singles on Tuesday.

A fog smothered the courts of the West Side Lawn Tennis Club early today, and when the mist turned rain it began to look like a postponement of the doubles match scheduled for the second day of the international tennis tournament.

A. E. Beamish and Charles P. Dixon, the Britons, were to meet Thomas C. Bundy and Raymond D. Little, the Americans, this afternoon.

An American victory would add another point to the two won Saturday by Larned and McLoughlin in the singles.

MADE CLEAN SWEEP.

J. B. A. A. Oarsmen Won All Events They Entered at Vancouver.

Vancouver, Sept. 11.—The Victoria James Bay Athletic Club members on Saturday made a clean sweep of the closing regatta of the Vancouver Athletic Club. Billy Kennedy won the singles by an easy fifteen lengths and with Souther as partner took the doubles by two lengths, which proved the closest test the Vancouver oarsmen gave the visitors. The fours were won handily by three lengths by the Victoria boys. The visitors were entertained on Saturday night by the local club at the opening of the new club house and a fancy ball.

WEATHER SPOILED THE WEEKLY SHOOT

Small Attendance at Clover
Point Ranges on Saturday and Low Scoring

With rain falling during most of the afternoon, the weekly shoot of the Rifle Association was held under dismal conditions.

The attendance was not up to the average, and the scoring by no means as high as usual.

In the monthly post match with the 6th D. C. O. R. the local team totaled 516.

Following are the principal scores and spoon winners:

First Class.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

Beacon Hills Administer Another Defeat to the Chemainus Lumber Jacks.

It took the Beacon Hill boys twelve innings of fast ball to hand over to the Chemainus boys their second defeat of the season by a score of 5 to 3, at Chemainus yesterday.

With the score 3 to 0 against the Hills in the seventh inning, it looked bad, but a base-on-balls, a two-bagger and an overthrow gave the Victoria boys one run in that inning and they followed-up this by scoring two more in the eighth. P. O'Rourke's hit, a pass, on error and McDougall's double being responsible.

Chemainus tried hard to break the tie in the ninth. Rex Dawson hitting to left with a moon on third, but Moir's accurate peg to the plate averted what seemed certain defeat.

There was no further scoring until the twelfth when the Hills declared their liking for Dawson's delivery in no uncertain terms and swatted two more runs around. The lumber boys were shut-out.

P. O'Rourke's fielding in centre and Moir's peg home in the ninth were the features of the game.

NO ACCIDENT

Nothing ever came by chance. So with good hair, if you would give it a nice head of hair, you must give it immediate care and attention.

And yet how often we see women who would otherwise be called beautiful, marred by the neglected appearance and dried up condition of their hair.

Hair must have proper nourishment or die. Parisian Sage is a hair nourisher and one that is fully guaranteed to cure dandruff (the cause of bald spots and falling hair), stop itching of scalp instantly, stop hair falling out and promote a thick and luxuriant growth.

Parisian Sage puts life and lustre into dull, faded hair and makes the head feel good the minute it is applied.

Thousands with beautiful hair regularly apply Parisian Sage as a hair dressing and would not be without this wonderful hair tonic and restorer.

For women, men or children, Parisian Sage is without doubt the finest preparation for the hair. Daintily perfumed, it is free from grease or stickiness and ought to be where every member of the family could use it daily.

The girl with the Auburn Hair is on every package. All druggists, 50c. large bottle or postpaid from the G. H. Co., Fort Erie, Ont.

CONSERVATIVES WANTED IT.

From 1896 down to the opening of this session the government has been persistently urged by the opposition on the floor of parliament, on the public platform, and through the press of the country, to do something to secure better trade relations with the United States.

They said we buy from them $217,000,000 worth, and sell only $104,000,000, showing a balance of trade of $113,000,000 a year against us. This they said should not be.

With all the arguments at their command they said the government should try and get better entrance to their markets for what we have to sell, so that our trade would more nearly balance.

Only December last Hon. George E. Foster, writing for one of our magazines, advocated reciprocity in natural products.

Mr. Northrop, one of the chief opposition front benches, in speaking on the address in reply to the speech from the throne at the opening of this session, said if we could only secure reciprocity in natural products, they (the Conservative party) would hold up both hands for it.

Dr. Chisholm, the Conservative member for East Huron, also speaking on the address in the same debate, in the clearest and most emphatic language supported the views so clearly and forcibly expressed by Mr. Northrop. See what Dr. Chisholm said:

"Personally I would favor reciprocity if I thought we could get a fair deal. The very word 'reciprocity' implies fair dealing, even-handed justice, with no selfish or dishonorable advantage taken by either party. In fact, reciprocity has been defined as a condition of things in which equal rights and mutual benefits are given and received."

Nearly two thousand years ago wise men of the East moved West. They set the fashion and the wisemen have been moving West every since. The others stay back East—in the smoke—under conditions that growing population and consequent lessening of opportunity, increasing cost of living, decreasing purchasing power of the dollar, render harder every day. THE LAST GREAT WEST! What a heritage the name implies. This generation has witnessed the making of the great Canadian Northwest. It has seen cities of one hundred thousand inhabitants grow out of small trading posts. It has seen the population of country districts double, treble and quadruple. Thousands of square miles of land formerly inaccessible have been opened up to civilization by railroads and steamships. Land values have increased to fabulous figures. The former wilderness has been transformed into one of the most prosperous and most highly civilized sections of the world. All this within a very few years.

PROOF OF THE "UNHOLY ALLIANCE"

While Premier McBride, Mr. Barnard and writers and supporters of the Conservative party are trying to frighten the people of British Columbia by asserting that reciprocity will result in annexation, and telling of the political dangers that lurk in buying cabbages, potatoes and fruit from the United States, the Conservative party is supporting and encouraging a most dangerous movement for "smashing confederation" by setting the people of Quebec against the people of the rest of Canada. This is a present danger, a danger of to-day, not a dream of something that alarmists think may come fifty or a hundred years hence.

The Nationalist speakers and newspapers are trying to arouse the French-Canadian speakers to anger and alarm over the navy, and for this purpose are making violent anti-British and anti-Canadian appeals. The Conservatives are in full sympathy and alliance with this dangerous and mischievous movement.

Mr. A. Fauleux, Conservative Nationalist nominee, Two Mountains, declared that the "Liberal party was pestiferous and rotten." The real object of England in forcing a navy upon us was not to have the boats of our money, but the blood of French-Canadians, and Dr. Desjardins, Liberal candidate, lied when he said anything else.

Hon. Jean Prevost, who referred to Mr. Henri Bourassa as "our beloved leader," said:

"We will never be ready to give our families to be used as targets in defence of England," he declared, amid applause. "The training ships we possess are schools where our children will learn to shoot, and later serve as targets for the cannon of Germany or Japan or China."

A Montreal dispatch to the Toronto Evening News refers to "Brilliant Henri Bourassa," and says:

"Mr. Bourassa's pronouncements on the naval question were loudly cheered. 'We have,' he declared, 'no money to waste on all the wars of England, and I repeat again that the logical consequence of the navy bill will be conscription. I leave the fate of the miserable naval bill in the hands of an intelligent country like this with perfect confidence.'"

At Bedford, Quebec, Mr. R. L. Borden appeared on the platform in support of Dr. Pickett, the Conservative candidate. Dr. Pickett, in his address to the election of Misses, published in Mr. Bourassa's paper, Le Devoir, says:

"If I am elected, I will give my word and my vote—I declare it emphatically in advance—to obtain the repeal of the Naval bill. I will vote against any Prime Minister, whether Mr. Borden or anybody else, who will not repeal this bill in its entirety."

Mr. Borden has himself pronounced against the navy. In his second election address, published on August 15, 1911, he says:

"It will cost immense sums of money to build, equip, and maintain. It will probably result in time of war in the useless sacrifice of many lives, and it will not add an iota to the fighting strength of the Empire."

This declaration has been hailed with joy by the Nationalist and Conservative press in Quebec. L'Evenement says: "Mr. Borden seems to have understood, and he denounces the naval measure energetically. This brings him naturally nearer to a group of French-Canadian electors who were distrustful of his inmost thoughts on the question of Canadian contribution to the problems of defence of the Empire."

L'Evenement's own position is given in these words: "Forward, soldiers of the good cause, the hour of revenge is at hand. Down with the navy. Down with reciprocity."

Another Quebec Conservative supported by Mr. Borden is Mr. James Davidson, of Montreal, the Conservative candidate in Sherbrooke. In his manifesto, he says:

"I declare that if I am elected on the 21st of September next, I shall work and vote against any Prime Minister of whatever party he may be, who shall continue the actual policy of the navy, as voted in 1910, without having previously given to the Canadian people the occasion of pronouncing themselves upon this question by way of plebiscite or special referendum."

"If I am elected I shall work moreover so that the rights and prerogatives of the French-Canadian and Catholic minorities of the other Provinces shall be recognized and respected, equal to the rights of the English and Protestant minority of the Province of Quebec. Separate schools, recognition of the French language, etc."

Mr. Davidson thus makes a special appeal to French-Canadians on race and religious grounds. The whole Conservative and Nationalist campaign is a campaign of racial strife and division. It is against Canadian unity and against British unity. It is a campaign that ought to reveal the British-born whether born in the British Islands or in Canada.

Mr. Borden, Mr. Barnard, Mr. Bourassa, Dr. Pickett, Mr. Davidson, all closely allied in this campaign—a vote for Barnard is a vote for Bourassa and the Nationalists.

CALL MONEY IN FROM GERMANY

FRENCH FINANCIERS CAUSE EMBARRASSMENT

Germany Has Sent Reply to France Regarding Claims in Morocco

Paris, Sept. 11.—The nature of Germany's reply to the proposals submitted by France with the idea of reaching an agreement regarding the Moroccan problem has affected French government circles unpleasantly.

Germany asks, it appears, that every claim of German subjects to concessions in Morocco shall be recognized by France, and that no new enterprise shall be started under the French protectorate without being internationalized equally.

The claims of the German subjects, particularly those of Mannesman Brothers and speculative companies organized by them, are enormous. The German terms also ask for a free hand in Morocco with conditions that would, according to the French view, deprive France of all her arguments and would give Germany privileges in Morocco beyond those of any power, even France. Some of the signatories of the Algeiras act may ask for another international conference.

A semi-official note issued to-day says that Minister Desclaux has examined the observations presented by the German government in reply to the French proposals and that he probably will take a favorable view of the suggestions contained therein for establishing the economic equality of the powers in Morocco, but that in opposition to this international economic equality are privileges desired by Germany alone. Other points, the note says, are raised by the German response which are equally serious.

The negotiations between France and Germany, the note says in conclusion, probably will be prolonged for some time.

It is understood that Germany in return for the recognition of France's free hand in Morocco demands economic guarantees which amount to privileges and which would be unacceptable not only to France, but to all the other powers, as they would practically suppress commercial equality in Morocco.

It appears certain that the financial difficulties of Germany are partly the result of the operations of French financiers. The German monetary world cannot resist the sudden hostility of the Paris bankers, who three weeks ago began to cut off credits which in any way concerned Germany. A good deal of Berlin paper is held in Paris and considerable by Swiss bankers, who are debtors of the Paris bankers.

When the political situation was taking on a dark phase, an ordinary measure of prudence, French financiers began calling in the debt owed by Germany. German embarrassment was immediately perceived and this process was encouraged by the French government as a diplomatic manoeuvre.

A French banker of distinction, who has close relations with the government, reached here Friday from Berlin, where he has made a thorough examination of the situation. There is no disposition among the Paris bankers to push matters too far, but they explain that they desire the return of their money at a time when apprehensions concerning the political future exists.

Disturbance among the Germans of their own government is, according to French opinion, going to exercise a strong influence in settling the Moroccan controversy. It is known that the financial flurry has been intensely annoying to German statesmen.

Kaiser Confronts With Minister. Berlin, Sept. 11.—Emperor William, before starting yesterday for the scene of the army manoeuvres, held a conference of two hours with the German minister of foreign affairs, Herr Von Kiderlin-Waechter.

The Lokal Anzeiger to-day, in what is evidently an inspired article, emphasizes that Germany does not demand any special rights whatever in Morocco, but seeks mainly guarantees from France against a monopolization of public works, mining and trading rights and against certain practices in the customs administration—guarantees that would benefit all countries equally.

The only subject requiring a special arrangement between Germany and France, the paper says, would be a treaty ceding territorial indemnity. All other points would be covered by an amendment to the Algeiras agreement, providing the other signatories would accept the German proposal to commission France to take over a protectorate of Morocco along with the obligations involved to maintain order.

The opinion prevails in the highest political circles of the capital that the matter will be substantially settled this week.

Saturday's Bourse panic seems to have passed as quickly as it arose. The market presented a completely changed appearance. Heavy buying orders came in from the provinces and from the outside public generally. The market was also improved by the publication of the Prussian grain estimates, which show blazer yields than did the first estimates published several months ago. This caused a heavy fall in wheat and rice prices, which reacted favorably on the stock market. Cheaper money also assisted in the recovery which almost wholly wiped out Saturday's losses.

May Hasten Settlement.

London, Sept. 11.—Some of the London morning papers take the view that the severity of the financial crisis in Germany resulting from the withdrawal of German credit will compel Germany to hasten a peaceful settlement of the Moroccan difficulty.

The Daily Telegraph's Tangier correspondent reports the massacre in the

ANOTHER FOOL ARGUMENT

The opposition are hard put to it for argument. In fact their so-called argument is nothing more or less than a picture of the dreadful things they tell us might happen if reciprocity goes through. Well, reciprocity is certainly going through, though none of the dreadful things will happen.

The argument of the opposition reminds one of the old story of the little girl who was sitting at the roadside with a little doll in her lap, crying very hard. Someone asked her what she was crying about. She replied, "O, I was thinking if when I grew up and had a real little baby and was sitting here and the green mountain over yonder should roll down on top of us, what a dreadful thing it would be."

One of the latest fool arguments of the opposition is that if reciprocity passes it will mean the cutting off of Old Country British investment in Canada.

What about the hundreds of millions which the Old Country Britisher has invested in the United States in spite of tariff walls where there is no British preferential as there is in Canada?

The Old Country Britisher is nothing if not cosmopolitan. He invests in every land in the world; from the land of the Hot-tent to the inner recesses of South America. He is ready to trade anywhere and at any time and if need be to fight for the opportunity of trading.

To say, therefore, that reciprocity will stop Old Country investment in Canada is the most arrant nonsense and is disproved a thousand times by the history of British investment the world over.

As a matter of fact, reciprocity will so stimulate trade conditions that we shall have more British capital than ever.

RIOTERS SHOT DOWN BY TROOPS

more appalling. The central government of China has appropriated 600,000 taels, or about $120,000 for relief purposes, but that amount is regarded as wholly inadequate.

Concentrating Troops. Peking, Sept. 11.—The Chinese government is concentrating troops on the borders to suppress the alarming disturbances in the province of Szechuan, should the provincial forces prove insufficient or disloyal.

Sixty Canadian Methodist missionaries are among the Cheng Tu refugees. These in all number about 100, of whom 30 are Americans. Nothing has been heard from them for the last four days. It is believed that they are being escorted by Chinese troops in the direction of the Yangtze-Kiang.

The government has promised to submit to the American legation a comprehensive statement on the flood, as soon as the facts are available.

THE CAMERA CANNOT LIE

THIS PHOTOGRAPH POSITIVE PROOF

Not Necessary for the Reader to Exercise His Imagination as to What May or May Not Be in the Bowels of the Earth

The illustration is not nearly so clearly printed in the newspaper as it appears on the photographic print at the office of Capt. Wilbur Johnston, Trustee, American-Canadian Coal Company, Limited, 604 Broughton street, Victoria, B. C. If you are passing the window have a look.

Unlimited Coal

The picture represents a great tonnage of coal in the formation of islands rising out of the sea, immediately in front of the shore line on the property of the American-Canadian Coal Company.

The two seams on the shore measure respectively twelve and six feet, the tonnage of which on the most conservative basis of calculation is 27 millions, and 27,000,000 of tons of coal netting at the least $1 per ton to the operators, represents an enormous dividend to the shareholders.

$300,000 Annual Profit

Do you know that a mine shipping 1,000 tons per day is a highly profitable corporation and this quantity represents sufficient shipment to pay a dividend of from $1,000 to $3,000 per day to the stockholders, or from $300,000 to $600,000 per annum, which on a $1,000,000 capitalization would represent from 30 to 60 per cent dividend.

Market at Mine's Mouth

If you were to ask an experienced coal operator or coal merchant what the prospects were to buy 1,000 tons of coal, he would, if he were in touch with the situation of the market to-day, say it would be a miracle if your order were filled, giving as his reason for such statement that the demand for coal to-day is far greater than the supply, although most of the coal mines in British Columbia are working night and day.

The country has progressed in every direction greater than the development of her coal fields, and to make matters worse Uncle Sam has been shrewd enough to contract for many years ahead the whole output of a number of coal mines, which might otherwise have supplied the local market.

The output from these mines leaves the bunkers at the mine's mouth in American boats and is taken to the many seaport towns on the Pacific Coast south of the international boundary, where it is sold at big profits, since American ports must find the greater portion of their coal supply in British Columbia, and the next best thing to owning a coal mine in British Columbia is to control the output by virtue of a long contract at a good fat price to the operators.

The market for the coal of the American-Canadian Coal Company's property on Graham Island will be Prince Rupert City, the hundreds of boats which make Graham Island for freight, as well as supply the American markets.

Prince Rupert is but 70 miles distant from the property of The American-Canadian Coal Company, and which city is almost direct west from Prince Rupert.

All trans-Pacific liners pass the property; in fact it will be their last and first call on each trip.

Title Crown Grant

Many coal propositions have been floated in which the title to the land and the coal was by virtue of certain licenses or leases for specified periods or terms of years.

It will readily be seen that this form of title is not as clear, secure or stable as a patent from the government, or deed in fee simple, which is the form in which the title to the American-Canadian Coal Company's property is held by the corporation. The holder of shares in the American-Canadian Coal Company therefore has the satisfaction of knowing that back of his stock certificate is a direct chain of title to the government.

Profits in Coal Mining

Some idea of the enormous amount of money accruing from coal mining may be gleaned by the fact that there are resident in British Columbia a number of millionaires who owe their financial success to the wealth of coal properties.

They will tell you themselves that a few years ago they acquired the coal land, opened up the same in a small way, and in a very short space of time found themselves independent.

One lady from her interests in a coal property on Vancouver Island received $300,000 per year for ten years, or a total of $3,000,000.

There are many men, readers of this paper, who remember the difficulty with which shares in the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company, at the inception of that corporation, were sold for 10c.

They went a-begging at this insignificant price—yet a very short while after the Great Northern took up the property and paid $380 per share, and to-day it is impossible to buy stock where it is for sale, except at a big figure.

The enormous prices for coal shares and these great profits from the operation of coal properties arise out of the fact that there is practically an unlimited demand to-day along the Pacific Coast and in Western Canada for coal for domestic and industrial purposes.

The supply is limited to a few mines.

Many of the mines are controlled by contracts to American corporations so that the whole output of these properties is absorbed by American markets.

Although British Columbia has within her boundaries more acres of profitable coal land than any other similar area of country elsewhere in the world, yet unfortunately through the limited transportation facilities it is impossible to operate but a very small portion of the same, and only such properties as are very close to main line railway or front on navigable river or salt water harbor is it possible to mine at a profit.

A limited block of stock in the American-Canadian Coal Company, Ltd., is offered the public by Capt. Wilbur Johnston, the Trustee, at the opening or ground floor price of 20c per share. These shares have a par value of $1 each, are fully paid up and non-assessable.

That is, when you have paid the 20c each, there are no further calls or obligations on your part.

It is a limited liability corporation having a British Columbia charter.

No application will be accepted until September 8th at the hour of 10 a.m. Shares will be issued and allotted in order of receipt of applications which will be numbered and dated as received.

This advertising announcement is to draw the attention of those interested and advising them to send in their application or call to make their application at once in person, since in all probability the limited issue at 20c will be wholly subscribed or nearly so, at the opening day, September 8th.

In making your application address the same to Capt. Wilbur Johnston, Trustee, 604 Broughton street, Victoria, B. C.

Remember $20 in cash pays for 100 shares, which may, however, be purchased in blocks of not less than 100, by paying $10 cash and the balance in two equal monthly instalments.

It is advisable for those who are desirous of making some easy money by buying the shares at the ground floor price of 20c a share, to buy double or treble the amount of shares they intend to hold permanently and when the price is 40c or 50c a share a few weeks hence, to sell out two-thirds or one-half of their holdings, thus reaping a handsome profit and a proportion of the original buy free of cost of yourself.

Remember, the terms are $10 cash—not less than 100 shares—as first payment on 100 shares, and two payments of $5 in two monthly instalments. No further call or obligation. $10 cash handles 100 shares. $100 handles 1,000 shares. The profit at 40c a share on shares bought at 20c is $20, and on 1,000 shares the profit is $200.

The Office of the Trustee, Wilbur Johnston, is situated at 604 Broughton Street Victoria, B. C. and is open daily to 9 p.m.

NEW STEAMER FOR AUSTRALIAN TRADE

The Port Kingston Will Probably Take the Place of the Zealandia

Vancouver, Sept. 11.—The Union Steamship Company of New Zealand has purchased the British steamer Port Kingston, according to advices received to-day from Liverpool and there is a possibility that the vessel will be put on the run between Vancouver, Sydney and Auckland, pending the construction of the two new ships arranged for by the company.

The Port Kingston is a fine type of boat and was built and owned at Glasgow in 1904 by Stephens and Son. She has accommodation for 160 first-class passengers and sixty second class and she can reach a speed of 17 to 18 knots on a coal consumption of 100 tons a day.

A feature of the vessel is the large amount of refrigeration space, amounting to 100,000 cubic feet and this fact influences the idea that she will be seen on the Vancouver run for the refrigeration space is one of the provisions to be in the new liners under the terms of the renewed contract. If the Port Kingston comes on she will replace the Zealandia which has not enough refrigeration space for the trade, having been originally built for the Australian-New Zealand coast service. The Port Kingston's engines are 30-inch, 50-inch and 50-inch by 54-inch stroke. She is 7,585 tons gross and 3,841 tons net, thus being a little larger than the Marama.

The vessel was built for Elder, Dempster & Company, who in 1905 put into service a fleet of fine, fast steamers between Bristol and the West Indies, handling large quantities of fruit and also doing a big passenger business. They were operated by a subsidiary company known as the Imperial Direct West India Service Company, and other steamers were the Port Royal, Port Antonio, Port Morant and Port Maria. The subsidy arrangement with the Imperial Government and the West Indies recently lapsed and the vessels have been laid up at Avonmouth dock, Bristol.

OLD CONSERVATIVE DENOUNCES BORDEN

Mr. R. C. Brandon, one of the leaders of the Patron-movements and a very well known Conservative farmer, living near Cannington, in Ontario County, has written the following letter to the Weekly Sun on Mr. Borden's attitude towards reciprocity:

After reading Saturday's proceedings on the Conservative gathering in Toronto I wish to express my opinion as a Conservative. My old political friends have mesmerized themselves into the opinion that the Ontario farmer is the most gullible creature in the world. The miraculous discovery that the Foulding-Paterson trade agreement with the neighboring States, with their 90,000,000 of people to provide food for, would cause Canadians to lose their individuality and our country its identity; if such is carried through, is amusing. The great light of revelation which granted this knowledge to my friends must have been greater than that which surrounded Paul when on his way to persecute the Christian. It is time every farmer in Canada asserted his God-given self-respect. It is now evident that a death struggle is on to regain possession of Canada's wealth, must have been greater than that which surrounded Paul when on his way to persecute the Christian. It is time every farmer in Canada asserted his God-given self-respect. It is now evident that a death struggle is on to regain possession of Canada's wealth, must have been greater than that which surrounded Paul when on his way to persecute the Christian.

tion, the commercial union cry, is a species of audacity quite in keeping with his want of discretion as a statesman. Reciprocity, if enacted, would add 20c. to each bushel of barley, 25c. to each horse, from $2 to $10 to each bullock sold, $4 to each ton of hay, and would remove 25c. per bushel and 30c. per bushel against our peas and wheat on going to the United States market. The Canadian Manufacturers' Association and the favored trusts and mergers have skillfully anchored our old political party to the rear end of their crusade of deception and slander.

R. C. BRANDON, Cannington.

CANADA'S PROSPERITY.

Having proved from the records that Canada is immensely prosperous, that all the criticism that has been indulged in during the past fourteen years against the Laurier government has been without foundation, the Conservatives argue that under these circumstances it would be unwise to make any trade arrangement with the United States. These leaders seem to forget that they have answered their argument themselves, for the same Laurier, Fielding and Paterson, the same government, under whose policy the magnificent state of affairs depicted has been brought about, stakes its reputation on the assertion that the proposed arrangement with the United States will add still further to the wealth and contentment of the Canadian people. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Fielding were right in their readjustment of the tariff in 1897, though it was opposed most bitterly by the same men who now oppose reciprocity. They were right in giving a preference to the products of the motherland, though that also was opposed by men now opposing reciprocity, and dire disaster was predicted by Sir Charles Tupper and others. The result has been that Canada, according to the figures, published by the "Interests" themselves, has never been so prosperous as she is to-day.

SIFTON FAVORED RECIPROCITY

Urged Campaign in States

(Ottawa Free Press.)

"I am in favor of any reciprocity treaty that would give the citizens of both countries equal advantage. Canadians expect to give one hundred cents for every dollar they get. Canada has made many advances in that direction, and is now ready to meet the United States on a fair proposition. First of all, however, there must be a campaign of education in the States south of the border States."

Who was the speaker?

Clifford Sifton.

How long ago?

Only eight years.

The attention of the Free Press to this speech of Mr. Sifton in St. Paul a few years ago is drawn in a communication received this morning from Mr. C. J. Whellams.

If at that time Mr. Sifton had been asked to define a reciprocity treaty that would be "fair" to Canada, he would certainly have described a treaty such as the one which he is now condemning, and like Mr. R. L. Borden a year later would have laughed at the idea that any agreement of that kind would in any way interfere with Canada's fiscal freedom.

Here is Mr. Whellams' letter:

Editor Free Press:—At a reception at the Commercial Club, St. Paul, on the evening of January 10, 1903, given to the Hon. Clifford Sifton, their Minister of Interior, Canada, he strongly advocated reciprocity. I quote from the newspaper report of his speech:

"On the subject of reciprocity Mr. Sifton spoke freely. He endorsed all that Mr. Hill had said on the subject, and expressed himself in favor of any treaty that would give the citizens of both countries equal advantage. He had no sympathy, he said, with those Canadians who expected the United States to give something for nothing, and he thought as little of the Americans who expected the Canadians to do the same thing. The Canadians expect to give one hundred cents for every dollar they get.

"Mr. Sifton was particularly severe on the American and Canadian newspapers that print articles that irritate the other side. Most of such writing, he declared, is done in utter ignorance of the subject, and only stirs up bitterness where none should exist. He hoped that a way would be found to curb such intemperate comment.

"Future attempts at adopting reciprocity treaties, in Mr. Sifton's opinion, must depend on the efforts of the United States. Canada has made many advances in that direction, and is now ready to meet the United States on any fair proposition.

"First of all, however, there must be a campaign of education in the States south of the border States. The congressmen of New England, New York, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota may be favorable to reciprocity, but they are so small a part of Congress that the administration at Washington feels that the sentiment of the country at large is against it.

"Any treaty, however, must give Canada as much as Canada gives the United States.

"In closing Mr. Sifton spoke of the cordiality with which he had been greeted wherever he had visited in the States, and declared that personally his tour had resulted in no sentiments but the frankest good will."

Knowing the honorable gentleman from a student to the high and honorable position he obtained as Minister of the Interior, I was sorrowful at his retirement. But I am more than grieved at his present attitude towards the American people and his opposition to reciprocity.

Respectfully yours,

C. J. WHELLAMS.

St. Paul, Minn., August 30, 1911.

EXCITEMENT ON

GERMAN MARKETS

Statement Regarding Moroccan Situation Fails to Prevent Heavy Selling

Berlin, Sept. 11.—The financial world Saturday experienced the worst day since the beginning of Mexican crisis. It was darker than any during the American panic of 1907. Although there were no developments to justify it, a feeling of approaching panic was evident throughout the day. Newspaper offices were repeatedly queried as to whether it was true that the mobilization of the German army had been ordered. A storm of selling orders burst on the Bourse.

Further savings bank runs were developed at Cologne, Essen, Aix Les Chapelle and other places, even including a Berlin suburb.

The seat of unrest seems to be in the provinces, where the little investors are savers, and are possessed with the idea that war is about to break and are determined to secure their investments at all costs. But the big banks gave them no encouragement to join in the selling movement.

The break in the American market, the bad crop situation and the expectation that the high cost of living would lead to labor troubles, all contributed to the sharp decline in prices on the Bourse. Iron and electric shares declined from four to six points, and Canadian Pacific lost five.

The situation invoked a scathing, inspired rebuke, addressed to German business men, through the Lokal Anzeiger, pointing out the folly of persons losing their heads over senseless and incredible rumors now in circulation, the falsity of which was evident.

The paper declared that an agreement already had been reached regarding the general object of the Franco-German negotiations relative to Morocco, but that it was necessary to work out the guarantees.

If public feeling rises the government probably will be forced to issue an official statement regarding the Moroccan situation, though it is feared that this will influence the negotiations in an unfavorable manner.

More Troops For Morocco.

Madrid, Sept. 11.—Five thousand Spanish troops have received orders from the minister of war to reinforce the Spanish garrison at Melilla, on the Riff coast of Morocco. The government action is due to the constant reports received from the commander of the garrison saying that the natives continue to annoy the soldiers by their attacks on the Spanish outposts.

Two Women Burned to Death—Cholera Patients Carried Through Streets

Chlasso, Switzerland, Sept. 11.—Massafra, a town in the Italian province of Lucca, has been the scene of outbreaks similar to those at Gioja del Colle, where the populace, incensed by the measures adopted by the authorities to check cholera, marched to the hospitals and carried out patients.

While the municipal council was in session discussing the best measures for combating the cholera, thousands of demonstrators howling "death, death," gathered about the city hall. The mayor and councillors suspended the meeting and escaped from the building. The mob then moved toward the cholera hospital, keeping up a running fight with the police, who were unable to stop the marching crowd. Several policemen and some of the townspeople were dangerously injured.

The mad crowd attacked the hospital and overthrew barricades erected against them. The crowd piled burning wood against the building and smashed in the doors with axes. When further resistance was impossible the doctors and nurses escaped from rear windows by ropes, but were pursued by the rioters. Stones were thrown and one of the doctors was dangerously wounded. When the rioters entered the hospitals several of the wards were already afire. Women patients were crying desperately, which further excited the fury of the mob, who interpreted the cries as proof of the cruelty practiced by the representatives of the government.

Smoke and flame added to the terror and distress of the patients. Some were picked up and transported on mattresses; others were laid on carts. Two women patients left in the flaming wards were incinerated, while other patients who were carried towards their homes died before reaching them. Police, soldiers, carabinieri and sailors were rushed to the burning hospital. They succeeded in subduing the rioters and arrested forty-five. These included nine women. All the measures taken to check the cholera now have been without avail, and it is certain to ravage the country around Massafra for a long time.

STRANGE SIBERIAN HOUSES.

One Enters by a Hole in the Roof and Climbs Down a Pole.

There are many kinds of queer houses in the world, but for difficulty of ingress and egress the houses of some Siberian fur hunters, Koryaks by name, take the palm.

From a distance these houses have the appearance of huge funnels rising out of a snowbank. The craterlike top of the house, besides forming a place for food and all sorts of articles, slopes downward to an aperture in the centre which serves as a smoke hole, ventilator and passageway below. A number of logs arranged in a circle support the rickety framework of the roof, the lower end of which rests on a secondary pile of timbers forming the walls of the living quarters. For nearly nine months the whole house is covered up to the projecting roof with tons of snow, chinked in with frozen earth and debris, the inmates being about ten feet below the surface.

The most peculiar feature of the house is the means of entrance. This is accomplished by scaling a narrow split log, having holes cut in for the

RUSSIA AND JAPAN AS IN CONTRAST

Japan's National Aspirations More Allied With England Than Russia

Under the heading of "Russia and Japan: A Comparison and Contrast," Dr. Ukita writes that so far as extent of domain, situation, customs and manners go, Russia affords a striking contrast to Japan. Although in recent time Japan has greatly expanded both in area and population, in area she possesses only one-third the area and population of Russia. Yet the civilization of either country is considerably behind that of most Occidental nations. At the same time each is making strong efforts to overcome its deficiencies in the matter of culture and refinement. In these efforts we find an analogy between the two countries. Up to the war of 1905, the Russians had evidently misunderstood the Japanese, and this inevitably set these two neighboring peoples so much at variance as to take up arms against each other. When the Russians after the war recognized their mistake in underestimating the national strength and spirit of Japan, they began to be unduly apprehensive of the Japanese. In the Far East, Japan has more interest in common with Russia than with any other country, except England. This is well shown by the convention of last year entered into by the Russian and Japanese governments, the significance of which will be recognized more and more as time passes on. Both Russians and Japanese seem to be lovers of the extreme. This is partly due to the fact that they are both young and immature. Moreover, both of them are situated between the East and the West. The elements of their civilization, derived from both East and West, are not yet assimilated, so that they are apt to fall into contradictions and extremes. It is partly due to the very circumstances that Russia, physically occupies a much safer and far more secure position than any other country in Europe, that their statesmen are not generally well acquainted with the conditions of the world outside of their own country. Hence, their feelings and conceptions are necessarily colored by characteristics peculiar to their nationality, but rather out of their immaturity and ignorance of other races and nations. Although the Japanese before the war were nearly quite as ignorant of the state of affairs in Russia as Russians were of the affairs in Japan, they had a tolerably good conception of Russia's real strength in the Far East, and have been, therefore, free from undue apprehension with regard to Russia ever after the war. The Japanese have rather learned to appreciate their amiable qualities and now look upon them with respect. Yet to most Occidentals it appears that the Japanese, like Russians, are liable to go to extremes. One reason is that, owing to long isolation, the manners and customs of the people are in some respects strikingly different from those of other nations, and as a natural outcome, Japanese are apt to insist that their own peculiarities are their best features. Hence it follows that some people of other nations believe in full earnestness that the Japanese are by nature a warlike people, every one being a born warrior; and others, on the other hand, are inclined to the opinion that they are quite different from civilized Westerners. Those hold that notwithstanding the Japanese adopt features of Occidental civilization to suit their own needs and conditions, they are at bottom no better than barbarians. Thus the Japanese have come to be looked upon as the representative "yellow peril," and the subject of discussion among Occidentals.

In matters of culture both Russia and Japan are to a considerable degree behind other civilized countries, and deficient in the superior qualities which are the mark of a nation at once to an extreme, and to cherish an eager longing to discover and develop their special features, distinct from any other characteristics of other civilized nations. While the Russians have succeeded in producing a powerful native literature, represented by the great works of Dostoevski, Tolstoi, Tourgenieff, and others, the moral views peculiar to Russian genius in general are strongly of an anarchic flavor, which is, however, nothing more than a reflection of present-day life in Russia. On the other hand, the Japanese consider that they do not have extremes, as they make much of self-control and moderation in everything. They can never go to such extremes in politics or religion as some Russians do. Yet this is only one side of the shield. We have never gone to such extremes as the Spaniards and Portuguese have done, or to the extreme North or South as the Americans and English are doing now. But we have stood still for two centuries and have never left our native land. This is the kind of extreme the Orientals are apt to fall into. There are, however, several points in which both the Russians and the Japanese are not very dissimilar. Mr. Harrison notices one other point of community between Russia and Japan. "In Japan nowadays it is easy to detect two main currents of thought. One has its source among the younger liberal elements, while the other rises among their conservative elders. Russia and Japan have at least this in common, that their respective governments dread individuality as much as the devil is supposed to dread holy water, and do their best to rear the rising generation as far as possible on a uniform plan. Were the late Herbert Spencer alive, he would find in Japan a vast fund of material for the fortification of his argument against regimentation."

LEMONS AS MEDICINE.

Various Uses of Acid Fruit in Domestic Economy.

There are few fruits which contain so many domestic virtues as the lemon, and yet, apart from its use as a flavoring medium as applied to one of the many branches of culinary art, its familiar yellow fruit meets with but scant appreciation by women of this country, says the London Daily Mail. The extracted juice has invaluable soothing qualities for persons suffering from throat and chest troubles. One of the homeliest, but not on that account to be despised, remedy for cold is to drink a glass of lemonade made of hot and cold water, with a few drops of lemon juice. A profuse perspiration follows, and provided the remedy is taken in time it is a famous cure.

Lemon juice and honey are beneficial for coughs. The ordinary method is to mix the juice of the fresh fruit with plain water, and to take a large lemon in the evening until it is thoroughly soft, and then add sufficient strained honey to the pulp to produce a thick syrup. This should be kept warm and a teaspoonful taken every quarter of an hour will greatly relieve the patient. Pure glycerine may be substituted for the honey.

An old stillroom recipe for the alleviation of an obstinate sore throat is as follows: Strain two teaspoonfuls of lemon juice into a wine glass, add the unbroken yolk of a new laid egg, then more juice, the whole to be swallowed without beating the mixture.

Golfers and women who indulge in outdoor exercises are often worried with tired and swollen feet. They will derive much relief if they rub their skin with equal parts of lemon juice and alcohol, well blended.

The most obstinate corn can be cured, it is said, by the application of a poultice of bread crumbs and lemon juice. A thin slice of the fruit takes the place of the poultice during the day, the process to be repeated as often as necessary. Rub chilblains with a slice of lemon dipped in salt.

A small bottle of fresh lemon juice should be kept on every toilet table, for the stings and bites of flies and insects. A dash of it in water forms an excellent mouth wash, whitening the teeth, preventing the formation of tartar and sweetening the breath.

The following is a simple recipe for a shampoo: Extract the juice from two lemons and boil this with the peels for ten minutes. Strain the juice out to two quarts of warm water and add two quarts of any approved perfume. Use as an ordinary shampoo wash and note the beneficial effect on the hair and skin.

Women who are inclined to be "too solid," or who suffer from rheumatism or torpid livers should take the juice of half a lemon squeezed into half a tumbler of water (without sugar)

DEMANDED LESS PAY.

Peculiar Strikes in Which Workmen Ask for Reductions.

Among the multitudinous strikes at present in the air, one looks in vain for anything so Gilbertian as demands for lower wages. Indeed, there is something so "strikingly" novel about the suggestion that its emanation from Colney Hatch does not appear improbable.

Yet the thing is an actual industrial fact. Strikes for less pay, though very, very rare, are not unknown. One occurred in Leicester no longer ago than 1884. In that year the hand-frame sockmakers at Oadby, a village near Leicester, in order to get work which otherwise would have gone to the bigger centre, petitioned to be allowed to work for 7-1-2 per cent. less wages than were current in Leicester. Upon hearing of this, the Leicester men promptly informed their employers that if they would not send orders to Oadby they would do the work at a 5 per cent. reduction in pay.

Which seemingly advantageous offer the masters declined. Whereupon notices were handed in, and determined to have lower wages, the hapless hosiery men struck for them.

But this is mild almost modest compared to an outrageous demand once made by the miners of Northumberland and Durham. These tollers—$8,000 of them—begged that they should not be compelled to earn more than three shillings a day! To which prayer their employers wouldn't listen. So the men came out on strike, stayed out for twenty weeks, endured hardships of the most terrible description, and then went back hopelessly beaten.

To-day another strike is threatening this same district, but there is a very great contrast in the causes of dispute. At the date of the historic strike above mentioned—1844—the fathers and grandfathers of these men toiled ten and eleven hours daily, and earned on an average twelve shillings per week. To-day there are hundreds of hewers in both counties who make as much in six or eight hours.

But if their earnings were so small, why should the miners of 1884 have demanded a maximum—not minimum—wage of three shillings a day? Well, then, as now, the work was done "on piece," and the idea was, when a man had earned his day's wage, he was to be free to leave work for that day if he chose. By this means the men calculated that the output would be restricted, and the work and wages made to "go round." Whether or not the argument was sound, or the question reasonable, is immaterial. The miners said "No," and stuck to it through a twenty weeks strike.

Not all employers, however, are adamant on offers of "deductions." Four years ago the workers in a nut factory at Glemsford, in Suffolk, received three months' notice, whereupon, in order to keep the place going, the hands voluntarily offered to work for an all-round 10 per cent. reduction in wages. To decide the matter the owners proposed a ballot. Each worker was given a pea and a bean, the latter to represent a "vote for reduced pay, and the former against. Secondly, the beans and the peas were put into the "ballot-box," a jam-pot, by the way—so by a handsome majority the successful party made sure of the desired deduction.

Presbyterian mass on Saturday afternoon by Rev. Dr. Campbell.

W. D. McIntosh, cashier of the Canadian Collieries, Ltd., who has been on a trip to Winnipeg, has returned to this city. Mrs. McIntosh, who has been visiting friends in Winnipeg, returned with him.

Mr. and Mrs. James Passey, Calgary, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Cox, sister of Mrs. Passey, 911 Fort street. Mr. and Mrs. Passey will make a tour of the B. C. Pacific coast and Queen Charlotte Islands before returning home.

Dr. H. Van Root of Vienna, Austria, left on Saturday for the east, after a brief stay at the Empress hotel. He has been making an extensive investigation of the iron and steel industry in Canada and the United States on behalf of steel interests in Austria and has collected valuable information which will be placed at the disposal of the industries he represents.

The general advertising manager of the C. P. R., W. T. Robson, registered at the Empress hotel on Saturday from Montreal. He is here on a pleasure trip, but will pay a visit to Port Alberni with a view to collect information about that portion of the Island while on the coast, as to his department falls the issue of the innumerable advertising booklets published by this great organization. His department spends an appropriation of half a million a year in advertising.

The marriage of Miss Minnie Douglas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Douglas, New Westminster, and Mr. James Blackhall, New Westminster, was celebrated at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Douglas, Tolmie avenue, by the Rev. H. P. Thorpe. The bride was given away by her father, and was attended by Mrs. J. P. Douglas, New Westminster. Mr. R. E. Douglas acted as best man. Many beautiful and valuable presents were received by the young couple from friends in this city and in New Westminster. The honeymoon is being spent in a tour of the Sound cities.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By Ruth Cameron

A letter has just come to hand which is so much more interesting than anything I could hope to write, that I have presented my correspondent with my space, to-day:

"I am emboldened," states the writer after the usual introduction and a little soft soap, "to come to you to-day with what I know is an unusual subject."

"The fact is I am a bachelor. I am forty-five, six feet tall, weigh 175 pounds, am a blond, in perfect health, fine teeth, my only claim to good looks, I am very well educated, not extraordinarily so, but very well read and well informed on a good many subjects. I have a profession in which I have for the most part, made a fair living but having had no family, have missed the chief incentive to make any real exertion.

"Now, strange to say, I do not like being a man nor do I like man's work.

In my tastes I believe I am more of a woman. I am a good cook, like the domestic life, really love to cook, never find it a trouble but a pleasure. Oh, yes I know what I am talking about for I have cooked in the only home I ever had with a relative, and I do not understand how a woman can dislike cooking and prefer work in an office or store. I can make beds and sweep and often make up my own room, simply because I prefer to do so. I do not know how I might make out at sewing, but I have sewed on buttons and patched.

"Now Miss Cameron, the question is this: Do you suppose in your large experience with human nature and the world in general, that it would be possible for me to find a woman willing to marry me? I mean a nice woman, an attractive one and also one who simply detests housework, one who calls herself a 'working woman' and delights in that appellation, and who would continue that work and bring in the wherewithal for the maintenance of the household, while I remained at home and did the housekeeping and all that would be necessary for a cozy, well-kept home.

"You simply can't imagine how I long for a home, a real home, cozy and domestic. I am tired of a bachelor's life. I have led rather a clean and steady life as men go, nothing out of the common, neither very good, nor very bad. I could have married several times, real nice girls—but, well I admit I was a coward—afraid not to succeed in being all in a financial way that the woman of to-day seems to consider essential. Now, if a woman makes the money she knows where it comes from and will perhaps not exact so much, and for my part I will engage to keep my promise to always have a bright and cozy home with the meals ready when she returns. You see I have already done that for my relative so I know what I am promising to do. I do not think this idea a really unusual one with lots of men. I have heard men express themselves in nearly this way—but they do not like their feeling to be known, thinking it unmanly. I do not think it is more unmanly than for a woman to detest domestic duties and prefer outside work. If the Maker of all, the Supreme Being has put the soul of a woman in a man's body and vice versa, who is to blame? Certainly not the man or woman in the case.

"I certainly could love some nice woman very much, and be, oh so good to her, if she could be satisfied with my humble self, and how I would serve her with every fibre of my being!"

Sometimes I fancy this is a make-believe letter, written just to "bait" me, and then again I believe it is genuine. Anyway, I think it is a very interesting point of view.

Don't you?

Ruth Cameron

If they can't be stars, some people insist upon being clouds.

A French doctor, M. V. Fischer, advocates a complete reversal of the present method of making up beds. You must have your head on a level with, or lower than, your feet. If pillows are to be used, they must be under the feet instead of the head. The result, he claims, will be amazing, being a sure cure for insomnia as well as a preventive for the nightmare.

Blue and white striped foulard has received the Paris stamp of approval, and now runs a close second to the popular black and white stripes. To-day's cut illustrates a pretty afternoon frock in blue and white foulard, employing a skirt which is quite new in design, and the apron like tunic, front and back and joined on the sides by heavy blue cords and tassels. The bodice, too, is quite fetching with its fichu of striped silk and sleeves of embroidered black-net with bands and ruffled cuffs of plain blue satin. A band of same net heads the top of shield in bodice between the fichu folds.

HIS GRACE THE NEW CANADIAN.

(Montreal Herald.)

His Grace the Duke of Sutherland, our newest Canadian immigrant, is going to have a very interesting time if the reports current concerning his intentions for his vast estates in the west of Canada, are anywhere near correct. His Grace is credited with the intention of establishing the tenant-farming system of England upon a large scale in the virgin soil of Alberta, where he has been for some time.

It has been alleged as one of the most serious charges against the landlords of England as a class that they show a certain inability to read the signs of the times, to perceive changes in the shape of the working conditions and to adapt themselves thereto. If the Duke of Sutherland is really under the impression that the tenant farmer system of England can be duplicated in the west of Canada, he must surely be a singularly bad observer of conditions. In a country where land is still practically to be had for the asking, or upon such terms that any responsible man who is known to be willing to work can get it and pay for it out of his first few crops, ownership is at the very foundation of self-respect. The Westerner would as soon think of paying tithes to the local services as a feudal baron, as of paying a part of the product of his crop to another man for the privilege of raising it on a particular piece of land.

It may certainly be possible to bring tenants out from England, for emigration under such circumstances calls for initiative and less accumulated savings and involves less risk and hardship to the emigrant than an adventurous faring forth to seek free land on one's own account. In the same way the domestic service guilds are able to bring out a large number of girls yearly who would not come to Canada without the assurance of a dependent position to guarantee them a living. But the domestics, as many Canadians know to their cost, do not remain domestics; they marry, to the extent of about eighty per cent, and the rest go into factories and eventually perhaps into military service. They seek those forms of independence which are most fashionable among their class in Canada. And so it will be with the tenant farmers. As soon as they get the lay of the land, so to speak, they will do as they see everybody else doing, and take up land of their own. And His Grace will be looking around for new tenants.

Now the deviation of an imported domestic from the path of domestic service is one thing, and not a very serious one, involving nothing worse than a mere visit to the employment office by her late mistress; but the deviation of a tenant farmer from the path of tenancy means that the farmer is idle until another tenant farmer takes his place. Besides which, a constant change of tenancy will be very bad for that relation of dignified paternalism towards his flock at which His Grace seems to aim, and which is so admirably adapted to keep their votes on the right side of politics and thus obviate the dangers of "mob rule."

Even the practice of touching the cap will be imperilled, and we doubt if the curtesy can ever be properly acclimated in Canada. In a word, His Grace is up against a very puzzling proposition.

OBITUARY RECORD

The funeral of the late Mrs. Anna Grace Hicks took place this afternoon at 1:45 o'clock from the Victoria Undertaking parlors and fifteen minutes later from the Christ Church Cathedral, where services were conducted by Rev. W. B. Allen. The attendance of friends was numerous and a number of very beautiful floral pieces were sent. Interment was made in Ross Bay cemetery.

The remains of Mervyn Edward, four-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Morsey, of 1387 Fort street, who passed away on Saturday morning, were interred in the Ross Bay cemetery yesterday afternoon. The funeral, which was private, took place from the residence at 2:30 o'clock. Services were conducted by Rev. E. T. Tapscott. The parents have the sympathy of all their friends in their bereavement.

Mrs. J. Chow, of this city, received the sad news of the death of her mother, Mrs. James Western, which took place on Friday, September 8, at Coburg, Ontario, after a long illness.

The death occurred yesterday at the residence, 234 Cook street, of George Bellan, aged 78. Deceased was a native of Quebec City, and had resided in Victoria during the last four or five years. He was retired. A wife and three daughters, living here, survive him. The funeral has been arranged to take place from the house to-morrow morning at 8:45 and fifteen minutes later from St. Andrew's cathedral, where services will be conducted by Rev. Father Latour. Interment will be made in Ross Bay cemetery.

MRS. F. D. MONK DEAD.

Montreal, Sept. 11.—The death occurred yesterday after a protracted illness of Mrs. F. D. Monk, wife of the parliamentarian.

SON SUES FATHER

Claims He was Kept in Jail Until He Signed Over Property.

Grand Junction, Colo., Sept. 11.—Charging his own father had thrown him into jail and kept him there until he signed a document conveying to him property worth $10,000, Morris Haggerty, Jr., has brought suit here against Morris Haggerty, sr., to set aside the deed he had signed. Young Haggerty said he had inherited the property from his mother. According to his story, seven years ago when he had just become of age, his father so mistreated him that he was compelled to leave home. He went to Salt Lake, and on reaching there was arrested and placed in jail. A few days later, he claims, his father arrived in Salt Lake and then insisted that he would keep young Haggerty in jail until he signed over the property.

TO OPPOSE SIR WILFRID.

Quebec, Sept. 11.—At a convention held here R. Leduc was unanimously chosen to oppose Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

LOCAL NEWS

The employment bureau recently organized by the Trades and Labor Council was opened for business this morning.

The legal dispute over the sale of the Donsmuir coal mines to Sir William Mackenzie and his associates (Canadian Collieries, Ltd.) has passed through the various stages of preparation for trial and is set down for hearing before the Supreme court, to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock.

The usual heavy Monday morning English mail was received at the office of the Vancouver Island Development league to-day, there being over thirty letters of inquiry. R. H. H. Baird, of the Evening Telegraph, Belfast, Ireland, a member of the party of British Presmen who are touring Canada, was a visitor at the league office this morning.

The formal opening and presentation of medals, certificates and prizes to the pupils of St. George's school, Rockland avenue, will be held Saturday afternoon. A program of fancy dancing, gymnastic displays and so forth will be given by the pupils. Mr. T. W. Paterson, wife of the lieutenant-governor will present the certificates. Parents and friends are invited to attend.

The local churches have arranged for a week of entertainments by Miss MacBride, elocutionist, impersonator and imitator of birds, bells, animals, insects, etc. The following dates have been set: Emmanuel church, Tuesday, 8 p. m.; Victoria West Methodist church, Wednesday, 8 p. m.; Christ Church Cathedral parish-room, Thursday, 4:15 p. m.; St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Friday, 4:15 p. m.; Congregational church, Monday, Sept. 18, 8 p. m.

The men's Sunday afternoon meeting in the Y. M. C. A. was addressed yesterday by Rev. Mark Lev, on the subject "The Mountains of the Scriptures." About 60 or 70 were present, and the address was much appreciated. At six o'clock a fellowship tea was held in the auditorium, when nearly forty attended. Eight different countries were represented in the gathering.

Later in the evening, after church, an informal song service took place in the lobby, bringing to a close a most successful day. All boys who are members of the Y. M. C. A. and who wish to take part in the demonstration classes during opening week are asked to attend sharp at four o'clock to-morrow afternoon at four o'clock in the lobby. The first junior practice will be held. The swimming club meets to-night at eight o'clock to continue practicing for the polo match with Vancouver. It is expected that a complete prospectus of the Y. M. C. A. will be ready in the course of a few days.

WOMAN MURDERED.

Essex, Ont., Sept. 11.—Mrs. Ged. Reid, wife of a prosperous farmer, was found dead in bed at their home in Maitland township Sunday afternoon, by her son. The woman's head and face were terribly smashed, the body lying in a pool of blood and an axe was nearby. The husband is missing and detectives are working on the case.

WILLIAM C. STEWART FOUND DEAD IN BARN

Former Candidate for Aldermanic Honors Thought to Have Taken Own Life

The body of William Craig Stewart, who was twice an aldermanic candidate for Ward One, was found hanging from a rafter in the barn of his home at 714 Hill street on Saturday night about 7 o'clock, and he is believed to have committed suicide by hanging himself. The coroner has ordered an inquest to be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The deceased had not been seen for the two days previous to the discovery of the body, which was found by Detective Handley, who went to the home at the request of Mrs. Stewart to learn particulars about his disappearance. Stewart had fastened the rope to the rafter, mounted a feed-bin, placed the noose about his neck and then jumped from the bin. The body was partially clothed.

Mrs. Stewart and her two daughters and one son had returned from a visit to Shikwamuk recently and since then have been staying with relatives at Menzies street, James Bay. Thursday was the last day on which deceased was seen by any of his family. He had been ill for some time and when he did not appear Mrs. Stewart asked the police to visit the home and see if he was there. In company with Mr. Graham, Detective Handley went to Hill street, and after a search of the house repaired to the barn, where the body was found. The body was removed to the Hanna undertaking parlors.

Mr. Stewart moved here with his family about three years ago, hoping to repair his ill-health, and engaged in the real estate business. Always an active Liberal worker he took part in the last federal campaign and spoke at several meetings. He was twice an unsuccessful candidate for aldermanic honors in Ward One. His health continued to fail and his mind became affected, so that last year it was found necessary to place him in the New Westminster hospital. There his general health and mental tone improved so much that he was able to return home, and lately he appeared to be in much better health, although still, of course, far from being well.

RALPH SMITH'S MEETINGS.

Liberal Candidate for Nanaimo at Cowichan-Next Week.

Ralph Smith will address the electors of Cowichan at Cowichan station next Monday evening, when, in his characteristic trenchant style, he will discuss reciprocity and the peculiar attitude adopted by F. H. Shepherd, his opponent.

On Tuesday evening, September 19, he will speak at Duncan. Among the other speakers will be Dr. Lewis Hall. Mr. Smith is confident of victory, and he has every reason to be, as he is daily gaining strength.

PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hodgson, Stevenson, were week-end visitors to the city, registering at the Westminster hotel.

A. E. McCall, a New Westminster law student who has just been admitted as a solicitor, came over on Saturday on business, and is a guest at the King Edward hotel.

Mrs. W. R. Hull, Calgary, who has been visiting her father, Mr. Banister, Government street, is returning to her home, Monday, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. C. R. Brown, who expects to be away a month.

C. A. Welsh, manager of the New Westminster lacrosse team, was a visitor to the city yesterday, arriving on the Princess Adelaide. He was accompanied by the celebrated player, P. J. Lalley, of Cornwall, Ont., who took the opportunity of seeing the capital city of the province. They registered at the Dominion hotel. Mr. Lalley came west to referee the last two games in the B. C. lacrosse championship series, owing to the illness of the referee who had occurred from the decisions of provincial referees, and when a play-off became necessary he was prevailed upon to remain for the post series between Vancouver and Westminster for the championship. One of these games was played Saturday, the other is due for decision next week-end. Mr. Lalley keeps himself in as good training almost as any player, and was out for a sprint regularly last week at Queen's park oval. Both managements and spectators have expressed their satisfaction with the masterly way in which the whistle is handled by the expert of experts.

GERMANS AND MOROCCO.

Berlin, Sept. 11.—At the annual convention of the Pan-German League yesterday, resolutions were passed protesting against the withdrawal of Germany from her political position in Morocco, and against her acceptance of territorial indemnity in the French Congo.

The German imperial chancellor was asked to break off negotiations with France relative to Morocco rather than settle the dispute on that basis. The speech of the chairman was to the effect that the acquisition by Germany of western Morocco corresponds with the wishes of the German people. Another resolution demanded the speedier building of warships.

TRANSCONTINENTAL FLIGHT.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 11.—With the aid of a head wind at his back, Robert G. Fowler climbed over the sky today and doubled back over the trail of the forty-niners. The start of the first transcontinental aeroplane flight was made from the stadium in Golden Gate Park at 1:37 o'clock this afternoon. Fowler plans to make the distance in twenty flying days and in a total of 28 days, arriving in New York October 7.

INJUNCTION AGAINST CITY IS THROWN OUT

Mr. Rorison Will Erect Block on Site Formerly Held by Dominion Trust Co.

The erection of a public convenience at the corner of Government and Wharf streets, which was the reason of the failure of the Dominion Trust Company to implement its promise of putting up a substantial block in the background, has now had the same deterrent effect upon Mr. Rorison, who purchased the site when the plans of the Dominion Trust Company fell through, and who now intends constructing a handsome block there, as the city authorities have accepted from him the same conditions which they decided when the Dominion Trust Company made the offer.

It may be remembered that after the plans of the Dominion Trust Company had been made it was found that the plan of the convenience in front of their building, which shadowed a nuisance which they did not anticipate being able to put up with. Negotiations were entered into with a view to having the city plans changed, and if possible, the proposed structure moved to another place altogether. Those negotiations failed to produce any satisfactory result, although the company offered to pay the cost of altering the plans and for the work already done. The concession was not sufficient to meet the case. Eventually the company endeavored to obtain an injunction restraining the city from going on with its work, but the application, made before Mr. Justice Gregory, was thrown out on Saturday. Injunction or no, the work has been at a standstill for months.

In the interval of the hearing and the judgment the Dominion Trust Company withdrew from their announced intention to erect a block on the site in question, and up till now they have not, so far as is known, been able to secure another location. Mr. Rorison, the new purchaser, has already met with the city council and arranged with them that in the event of the same concession asked by the Dominion Trust Company being granted him in regard to the construction of the entrance to the convenience he will go through with his project and erect a six-story block on this valuable and conspicuous site.

On Saturday the city solicitor and Mr. Rorison met and came to an understanding in regard to the matter. It is stated that the plans of the new building are now under way and that a start will be made upon the construction work within a very few weeks.

BOY FINDS BODY OF MURDERED MAN

Victim of Ontario Tragedy Shot From Ambush—Attempt to Conceal Body

Eno, Ont., Sept. 11.—Seeking for a lost coat about 6 p. m. yesterday, Roland Tidd, son of a farmer of this district, stumbled across a dead body of a young man about five miles east of here. An examination by the coroner, who was immediately called, revealed the cause of death to have been a shot from a heavy calibre revolver at close range. Monday he was found in his coat pocket the address of Andrew Saman, 21 Foak street, Virginia, Minn., together with a Socialist emblem and a number of 32 cartridges wrapped in a handkerchief.

Later investigation of the vicinity showed that the dead man had been shot at a place some fifty feet from where the body had been found, and had been dragged along the ground by the heels until it had become wedged between two trees, where it had been left. The trail thus made was in direct line with a nearly swamp, where it had evidently been the intention to conceal the body. Two boys of a nearby village testified to hearing two shots in rapid succession earlier in the day.

INJURIES PROVE FATAL.

Vancouver, Sept. 11.—John Westman was run over by an automobile driven by Frank Winton last night at the corner of Pender and Beatty streets. Westman was taken to the hospital, but died at 10 o'clock this morning.

BARRY DEFEATS FOGWELL.

New Zealand Sculler Beaten by Over Three Lengths by English Champion.

London, Sept. 11.—Over the Putney course to-day Ernest Barry, champion sculler of England, defeated W. H. Fogwell, the New Zealand champion. At the half distance Fogwell led by two lengths on a long sprint. Thereafter the race was a procession the Englishman never being pressed to exert himself.

The judges have officially given the margin of Barry's victory as three and a half lengths. The match was the most important rowing in England for many years. To the victor goes the Sportsman's cup, which he has won three times, and 400. Fogwell sculled well up to the half, but after that distance was outclassed. Fogwell won the toss and took the Middlesex side of the course. At times he increased his stroke to 25 per minute. Ideal weather prevailed.

Esslingen, Wurttemberg, Sept. 11.—The aviator Edmund D. Bering was killed Saturday night while making a flight at the aerodrome. His machine collided with a mast marking the limits of the field.

TWO YEARS IN JAIL FOR A ROUGH THUG

Man Attacked on Street Thief Frustrated by Night Watchman Atkinson

A rough-looking thug who attempted to use the dark-alley method of robbery from the person, but who was frustrated in the midst of going through the clothes of his contemplated victim, was dealt with by Magistrate Jay in the police court this morning and sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary.

The man, arrested Saturday night, gave his name as Harry Hall and this morning admitted he had just completed ten days in the Vancouver prison for creating a disturbance in the mainland city.

He was seen by Night Watchman Atkinson on Langley street on Saturday night, in company with a companion who escaped, follow Peter Thornton, and suddenly jumping on his back hurl him to the ground and commence a search of the prostrate man's pockets.

Peter Thornton, a railway laborer, had been to the Palace saloon, where he bought a bottle of stimulant and showed a $10 bill during the transaction. Leaving the saloon he was followed by Hall, who was frustrated in his attempt to get the money by the appearance of the nightwatchman. Hall, when arrested, struggled and fought but, with the assistance of Constable Hastings, was landed in the cells. This morning he said Thornton had invited him to visit his room and drink the whiskey. Thornton said he never seen Hall. The second man was seen to run from the alleyway when the alarm was given.

Victor Leocke, a foreigner, who was in the police court three times last week for drunkenness and warned there was one month's imprisonment awaiting him on his next appearance, appeared and received the term this morning. Saturday night he quarreled with another man, and the two fell through a window on Johnson street. The second man was fined for drunkenness along with the others of the thirsty clan.

Wong Qua, Jr., a well-known Chinese, who has just been brought back from Kamloops by police aid, is charged with appropriating the money of a Chinese firm with whom he was employed as book-keeper. To straighten out the accounts and prepare the evidence a remand was given until Thursday.

NO BALL GAME TO-DAY.

Owing to the fact that the Spokane team missed the boat from Seattle, there will be no ball game this afternoon. This is not a very great loss for the grounds are in none too good condition after the rains of the last two or three days, and the postponement will give Eddie Gleason an opportunity to get them into first-class shape for to-morrow's game.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

New York, Sept. 11.—In spite of two hours' rain during the early morning, the courts were in better condition for the doubles match in the international tennis tournament to-day than on Saturday.

Thomas C. Bundy of California, and his partner, R. D. Little of this city, the national doubles champions, met C. P. Dixon and A. S. Beamish, the British players.

Dixon and Beamish won the first set, 6-3, the second set by 7-5, and the last set by 6-4.

WALL GIVES WAY.

Vancouver, Sept. 11.—With its supports weakened by the excavating being done in the adjoining lot, the west wall of the building occupied by Moore's Vancouver millinery store at 149 Hastings street, east, gave way yesterday morning about 8 o'clock and fell, tons of brick and mortar crashing into the excavation next door. Fortunately the accident occurred on Sunday morning, when there was only one man on the premises, and he was not near enough to be hurt.

APPEAL AGAINST CONVICTION.

Technical Objections Taken By Respondent in Durlin Case To Be Argued on Friday.

An appeal against the conviction of Estelle Durlin, alias Carroll, fined and sentenced to four months' imprisonment for keeping a disorderly house and fined for selling liquor without a license, was taken in county court before Judge Lampan this morning, and after objections to the appeal were stated, the arguments were set for Friday.

The objections raised to the appeal by J. A. Aikman, for the crown, are that the magistrate is referred to in the appeal as George Jay, police magistrate for the province of British Columbia, whereas Mr. Jay is stipendiary magistrate for the district of Victoria. The appellant's name is given as Stella Durlin, whereas the woman convicted is named Estelle Durlin. A further objection is taken that the appellant was allowed out on cash bail pending the appeal, whereas the act provides she should be liberated only by the sureties of two bondsmen.

The county court list for September was called this morning and dates set for every day of the month. Owing to the accumulation of legal business several cases had to go over until October.

RESERVOIR LEAKS

BREAK OUT AGAIN

Ald. Humber Posts Sarcastic

Notice to Have the Defects

Remedied Now

Little has been heard of the Smith's Hill reservoir for some time, in fact since the diving and submarine operations were concluded, and the impression has got abroad that the tank is now holding its own in such a manner as to silence all criticism, when, as a matter of fact, it is leaking at such an extraordinary rate—computed at 150,000 gallons per day—as to render everyone almost speechless.

When the diver ceased his operations the reservoir behaved "perfectly" for a month or two, but after that the "leakage" broke out again and developed proportions never before attained. Unfortunately the warm season was on and it was not deemed expedient to raise an alarm or even to attempt a thorough examination for fear of a shortage, but now that the rainy season has made its freshening debut the subject of the reservoir defects will doubtless come in for all the peculiar and particular criticism to which its age and seriousness render it justly entitled.

Ald. Humber, who has been restraining himself from deluging the public with the real facts of the case for a considerable time, has at last let himself go, so to speak, in the form of a caustic resolution which will probably be considered at the next meeting of the city council. The resolution is in the following terms:

"That inasmuch as deep sea diving and other submarine work carried on in the past with a view to making the reservoir at Smith's Hill hold water without leaking have failed, the city engineer be instructed to repair the reservoir and

CARRYING MAIL IN FLYING MACHINES

First Aerial Postal Service inaugurated by British Post Office

London, Sept. 11.—The first flying postal service was inaugurated Saturday afternoon under the auspices of the British post office. The points of departure and arrival were respectively the Hendon aerodrome and Windsor Castle, the distance being something under a score of miles. The aerial mail experiment was undertaken to demonstrate the practicability of this means of letter transit when a war of strikers renders it unavailable by the ordinary train service.

Four airmen, piloting two monoplane and two biplane, were engaged in the work.

King George was so interested in the service that he gave his permission to the aerial postmen to alight on the lawn of Windsor Castle.

The first postal aviator to reach Windsor Castle from Hendon made the trip in eighteen minutes.

AN INQUISITIVE CONSERVATIVE.

To the Editor: The tip-top corner of the Colonist—this (Sunday)—morning has been handed over to a Mr. Thomas Donovan to inform the electorate that "prosperity had followed British Columbia ever since he came to it."

There is nothing else in the letter of T. D. or D. T. (which is it?) except that he is "out with vote and influence for Barnard."

May I ask the Colonist why did Thomas D. turn his coat so suddenly? Is it to be attributed to the oppressive heat of that office during the small hours this morning, whilst he was putting this nail in the coffin of the party he clung to "through all his life"? Or is his difficulty in swallowing reciprocity? In 1908, Thomas D. was "out for the Liberal party" and Templeman. In 1909 he is "out for Barnard" and "the Conservative party." Now if reciprocity is shelved, who will he be "out for" in 1913?

A prodigal son of such varied experience should then be in a position to enlighten the electorate and tell his "dear old party" who "forged that telegram."

The remainder of the letter is only a hash of old bones and stuff thrown out recently by the Colonist and that ilk, with which I will not trouble you.

The Colonist also directs the attention of "working men" to the views of a certain candy maker, who has turned Conservative, down east, and threatens "to wipe out the Liberal party on the issue of reciprocity." And another who threatens to "break loose from his party" on the same issue.

I have always been a Conservative "man" but not at any time a renegade to my party, and a Conservative I mean to remain, although I would as soon lose a finger as vote for Barnard, who pretends to be deaf, dumb, and blind when he is asked "who forged that telegram?" It would have been far better for the moral welfare of the man if he had sufficient resolution to shake off this unholy grip of the only newspaper that could give full information as to "who forged that telegram?" Stick to your "slogan," sir. It's right.

WAIF III.

SLANDERING CANADIANS.

To the Editor—I challenge Messrs. McGregor, McBride and their associates to point out one instance in the world's history where a commercial agreement for the extension of trade facilities resulted in annexation. Then in all sincerity I say, why (for political purposes) decry the Canadian and represent him to the world as a poor, weak-minded wretch unable to help himself? It is a libel on a race that is equal to any in the world and has proved itself such on the field of battle and in commerce. The Canadian who shed his blood on Queenstown Heights and in South Africa is the Canadian of to-day, and the man who denies it is a slanderer of our race.

Sept. 11, 1911.

CHINESE CLAIMS.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 11.—Trusted with the task of adjusting the differences between his government and Mexico, growing out of the incidents of the recent revolution, Woo Chung Yen, a noted Chinese diplomat, is on his way to Mexico.

The shooting of Chinese and the destruction of their property at Torreon for which a large indemnity has been demanded will be one of the matters to be investigated by the envoy from China.

BUSINESS LOTS FOR BUSINESS MEN AT Fort George

The big money in real estate is made by those who buy business lots at the beginning of a city.

Knowing what you do now, if you had the opportunity of buying at prices prevailing a few years ago, you would not hesitate to buy on Hastings or Granville streets, Vancouver; Main street or Portage avenue, Winnipeg; Jasper avenue, Edmonton; or Eighth avenue, Calgary.

You would not be buying at Shaughnessy Heights, Tuxedo Park or any of the outlying additions no matter how high-sounding the name or how many boulevards or parks they might have, notwithstanding the fact that lots in these additions are first class investments—but

Business Lots for Profit

Most people cannot afford to buy business lots in the streets mentioned above at present prices.

It is possible, however, to get in at the starting point of what will be undoubtedly a place of as much importance.

In making an investment in real estate the necessary thing to do is to pick out the most promising of the prospective cities and examine into their possibilities.

What are their natural advantages? After you have looked them all over and considered the good and bad points, then you will find out that—

Fort George has every natural advantage possessed by all the others combined.

One of the prospective cities will be a railroad centre.

Another has coal mines.

This one has timber lands.

Another will talk of the fine climate.

That one is the centre of an agricultural district.

Fort William and Port Arthur will talk to you about their water transportation.

Stewart will talk of her mines.

Some other places may have a great water power.

Fort George Has Them All

Don't overlook this point. It means that Fort George has a combination of all the resources possessed by all the other cities of Western Canada (except that she is not an ocean port).

Fort George is the geographical and strategic commercial centre of British Columbia. British Columbia is Canada's largest and richest province.

You should know all about Fort George and British Columbia. Let us send you map, plans and official information free.

Send your name or call to-day.

You can get in at the beginning if you hurry.

Men of Large Stature

The Semi-ready physique type system is a studied and scientific system of fitting every man perfectly, according to his height and weight—fitting him so that every line of the garment shall fall or drape gracefully in its right place.

Ask for a Type F or a Type G suit, if you are portly or stout.

Sizes of 40 to 44 designed to fit, and larger sizes made to order in four days. Prices from $18 up to $35, according to quality.
